Southwest possesses and displays a spirit that is directly associated with our feelings of mutual respect for one another.

The Spirit of '86 captures the memories of the past year and that great Southwest spirit ... A SPECIAL SPIRIT!

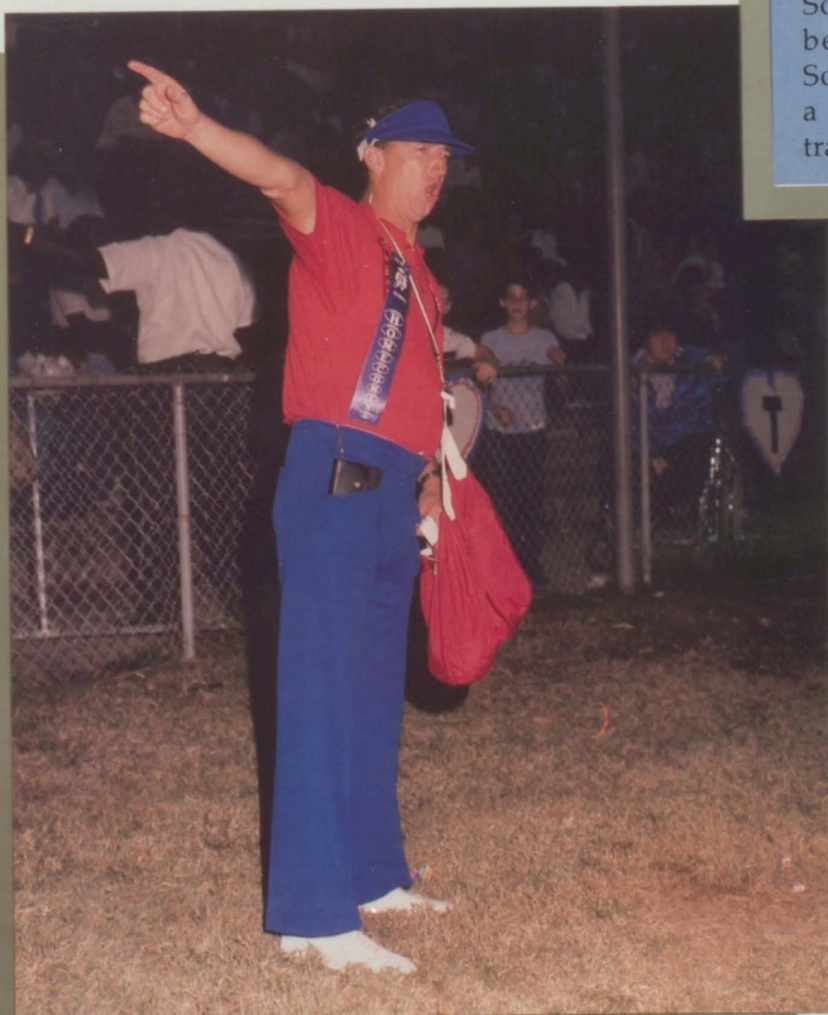

SPRIT OF '86
SW
A Special Spirit

Southwest has always possessed the reputation of being a school with an exceptional spirit.

This reknown spirit has been generated through years of traditional school activities and is still displayed in the thrill and dedication demonstrated in every facet of the school program. The Friday night football games at Henderson Stadium, the antics of Mr. and Miss Patriot, the annual Homecoming festivities, the loyalty displayed by our Spiritmaker, Johnny Higdon, and the academic excellence of students are all characteristics of Southwest. Spirit has always been the cornerstone of Southwest and continues to be a permanent part of our tradition.

Traditional Spirit
SW

Spirit at Southwest is inherent in every Patriot. It is the unifying force that pulls together the many personalities which populate our school. The great spirit we possess is personified by Complex Principal, Gloria Washington, often called the First Lady of Southwest. Displaying this spirit, she is the moving force behind our unity. Teachers reflect this same spirit by their involvement in activities designed to benefit their school. Students help to create Southwest unity as they work harmoniously together to increase the academic and athletic reputations of their school. This unifying spirit was exemplified this year by the spontaneous and successful Southwest effort to protect its name after a proposal was made to change it back to Willingham-McEvoy High School.

Unifying Spirit
SW
A Special Spirit

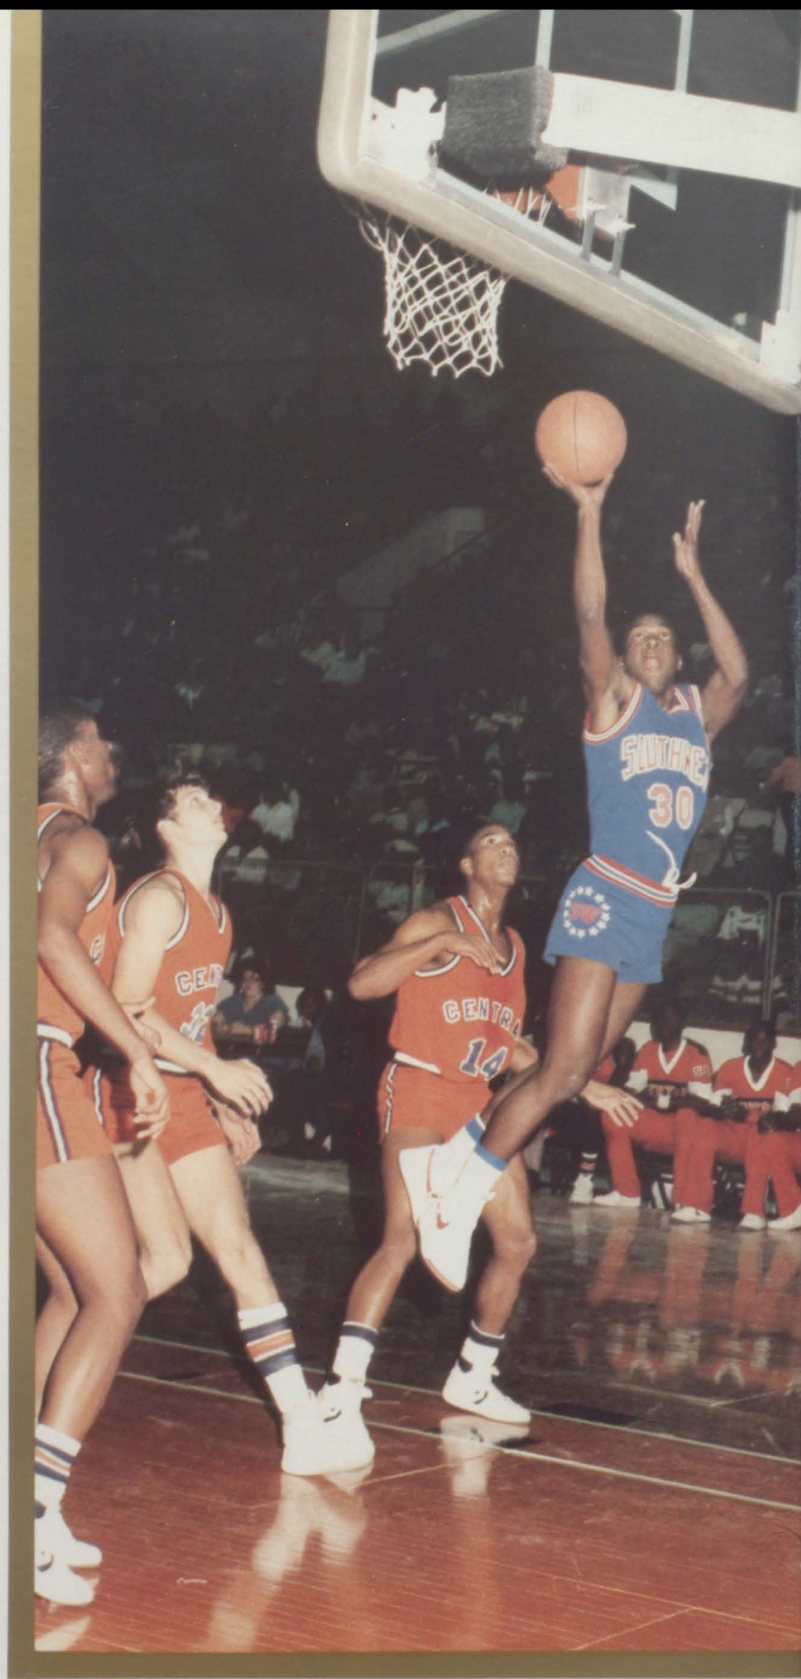

What makes Southwest spirit so unique? It is a combination of loyalty and dedication shared by the faculty and students as they work and play in an atmosphere filled with love for their school. Unique spirit at Southwest means the fun of participating in Goofy Goblin week to help raise money for needy families. It means Seniors walking to the theater during Senior Week and the transporting of the entire Senior Class to the City Auditorium for Honors Day. This unique spirit is a result of the trust and respect that exist among the students, faculty and administration at Southwest. It is exemplified through the recognition Southwest has received by being awarded the Sportsmanship Trophy for Bibb County and the honor accorded Southwest by the visit of the Rev. Jesse Jackson.

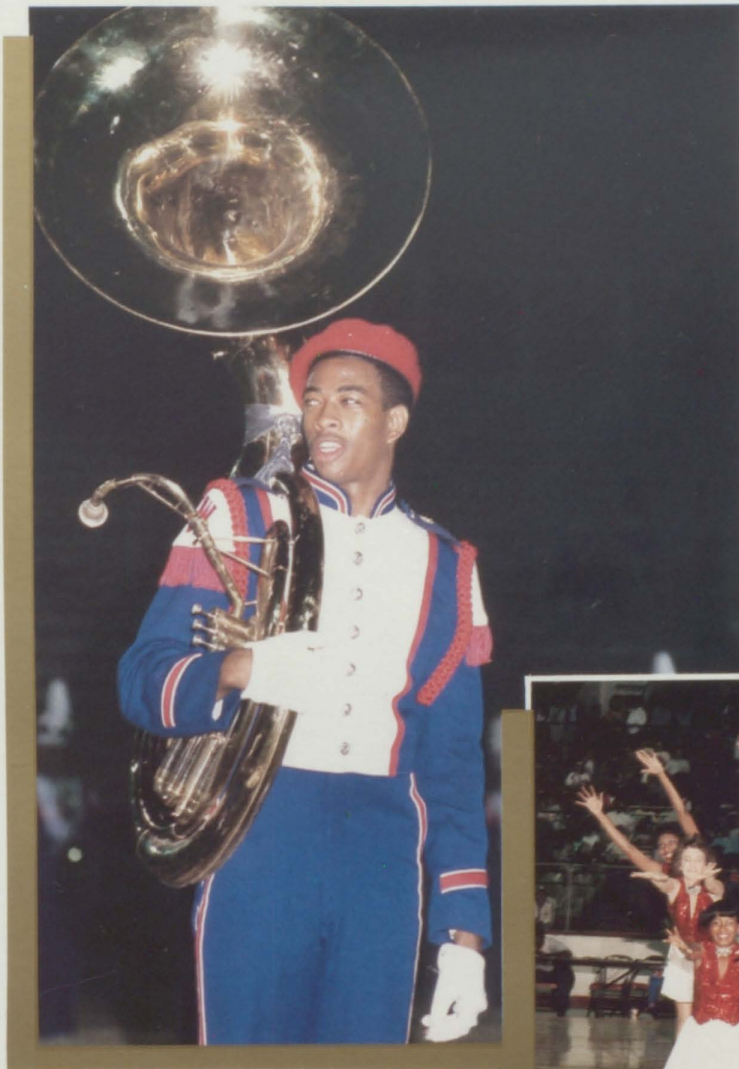

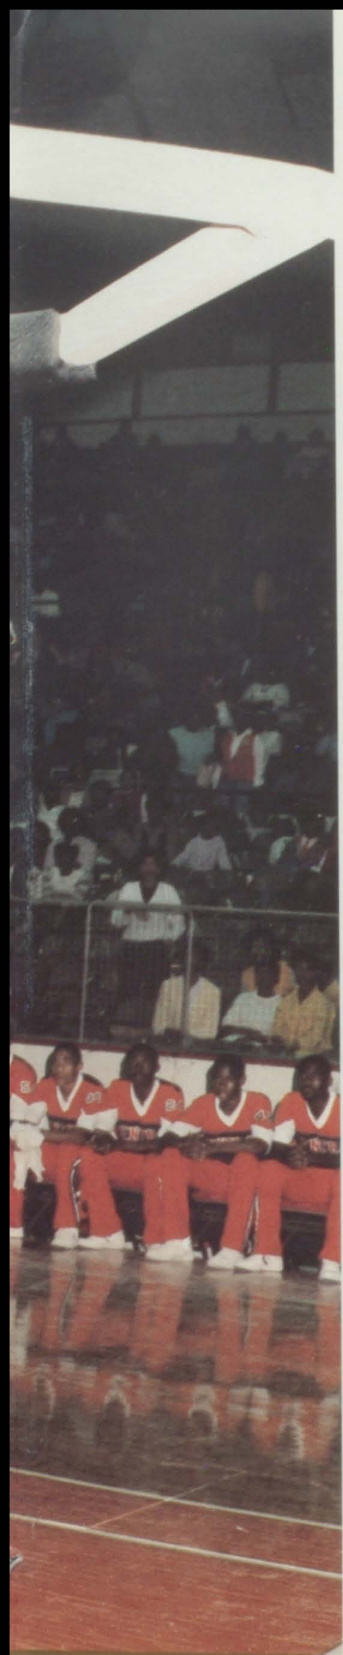

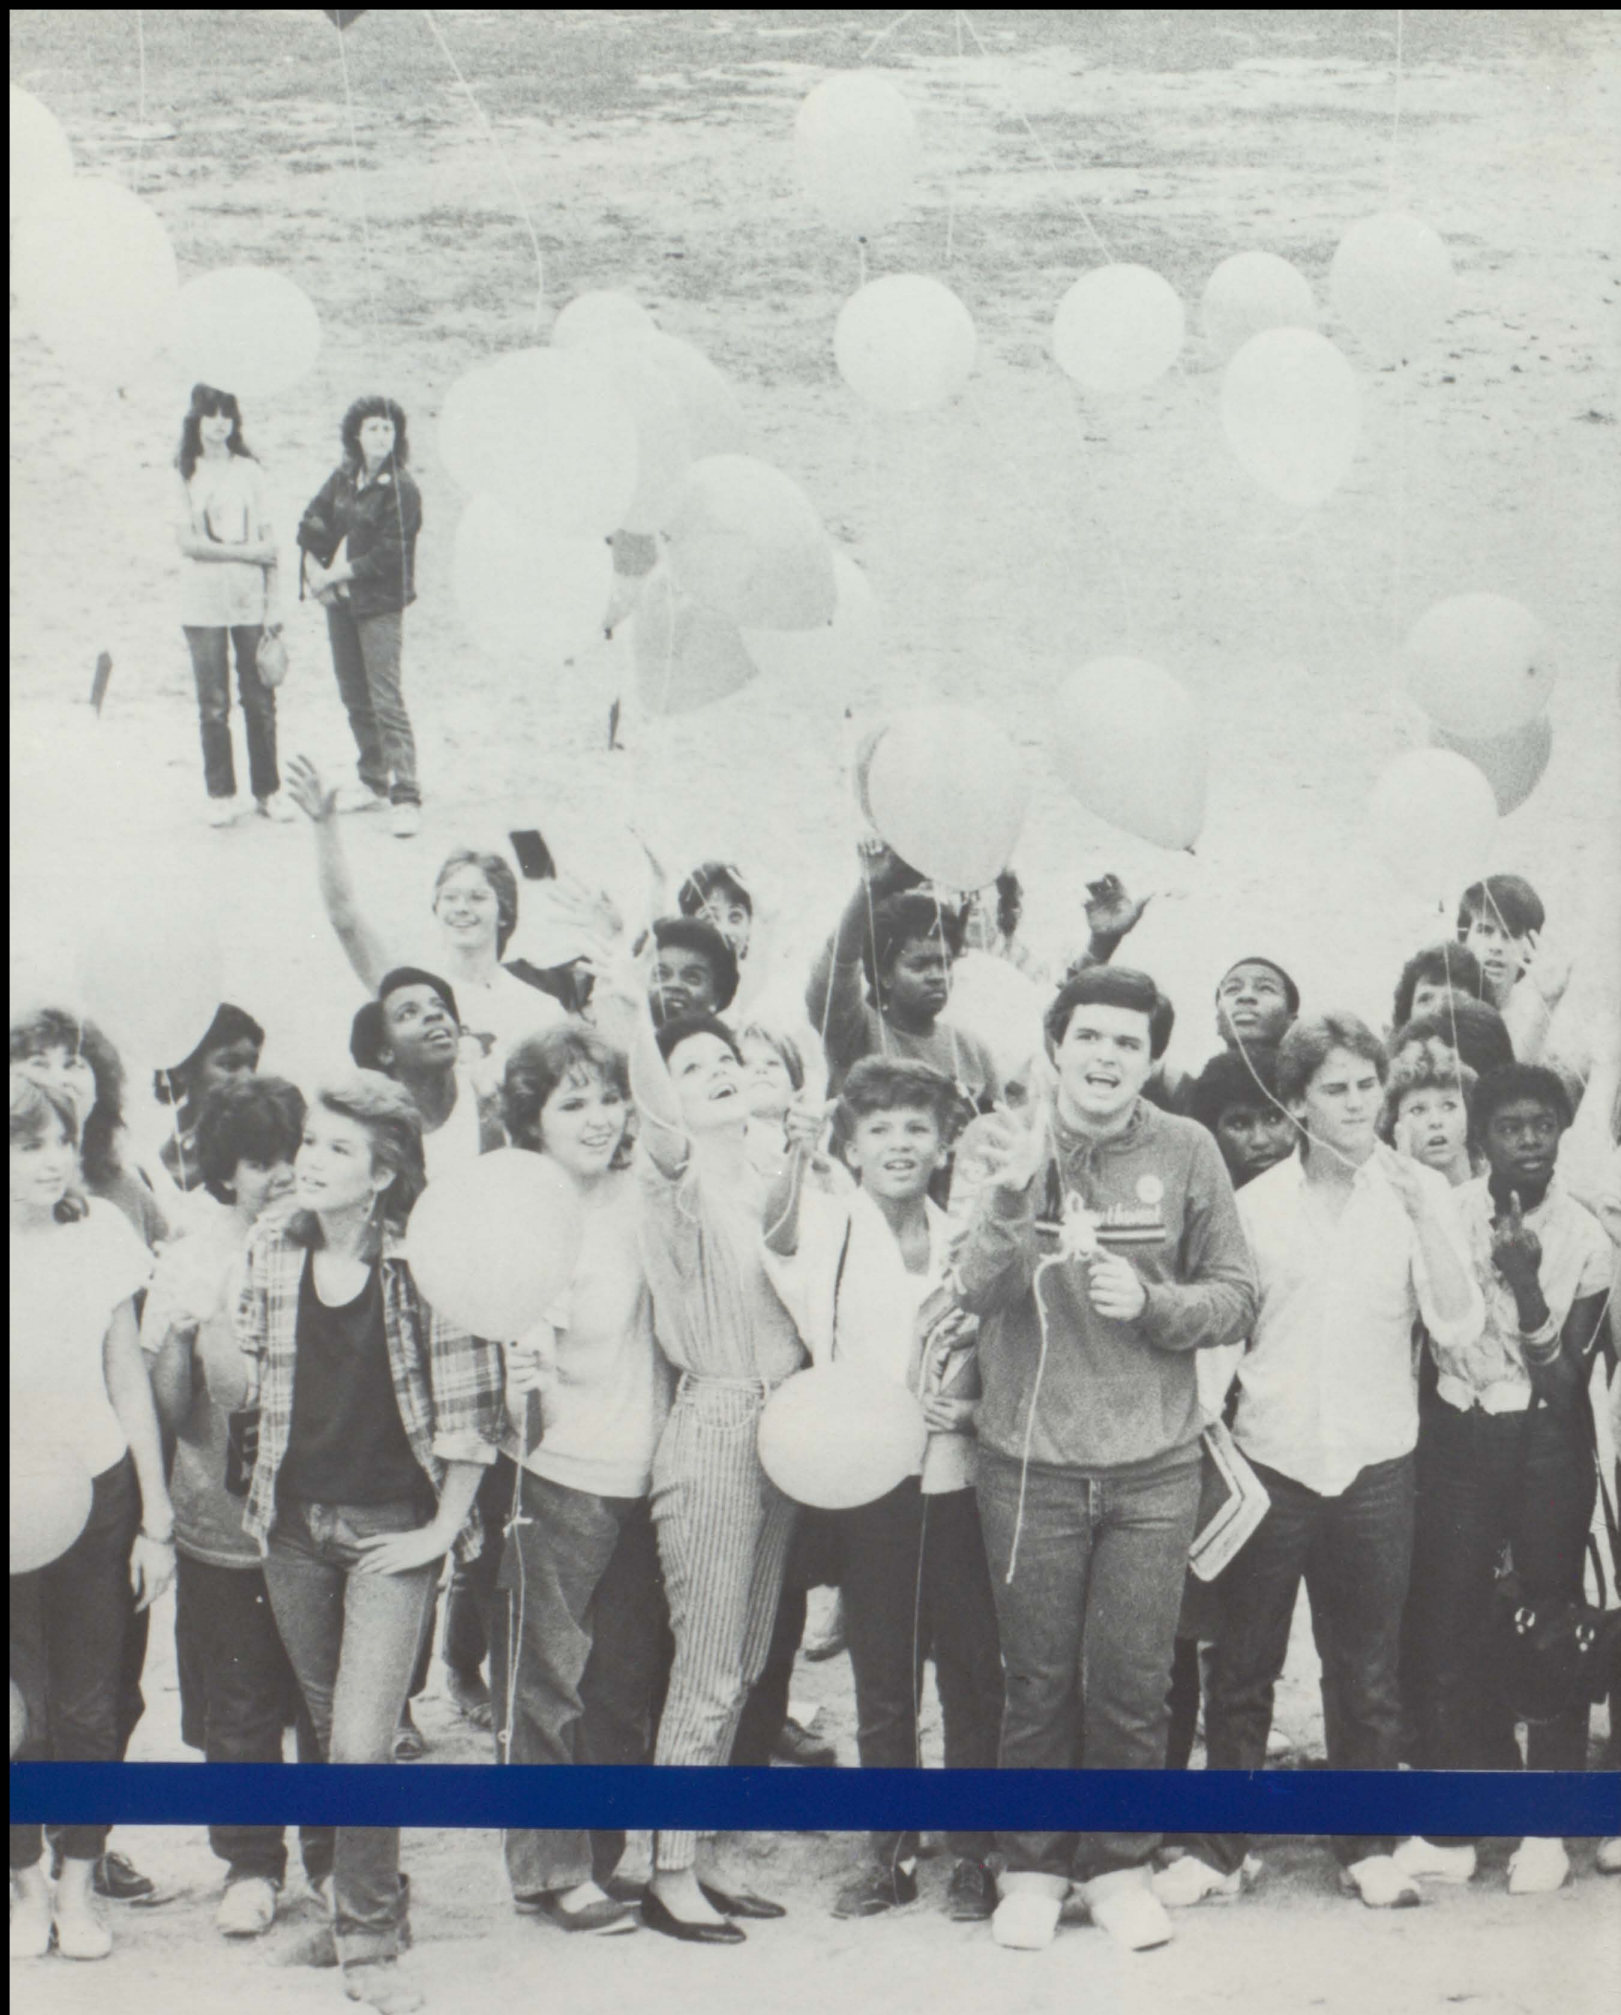

Unique Spirit
SW
A Special Spirit

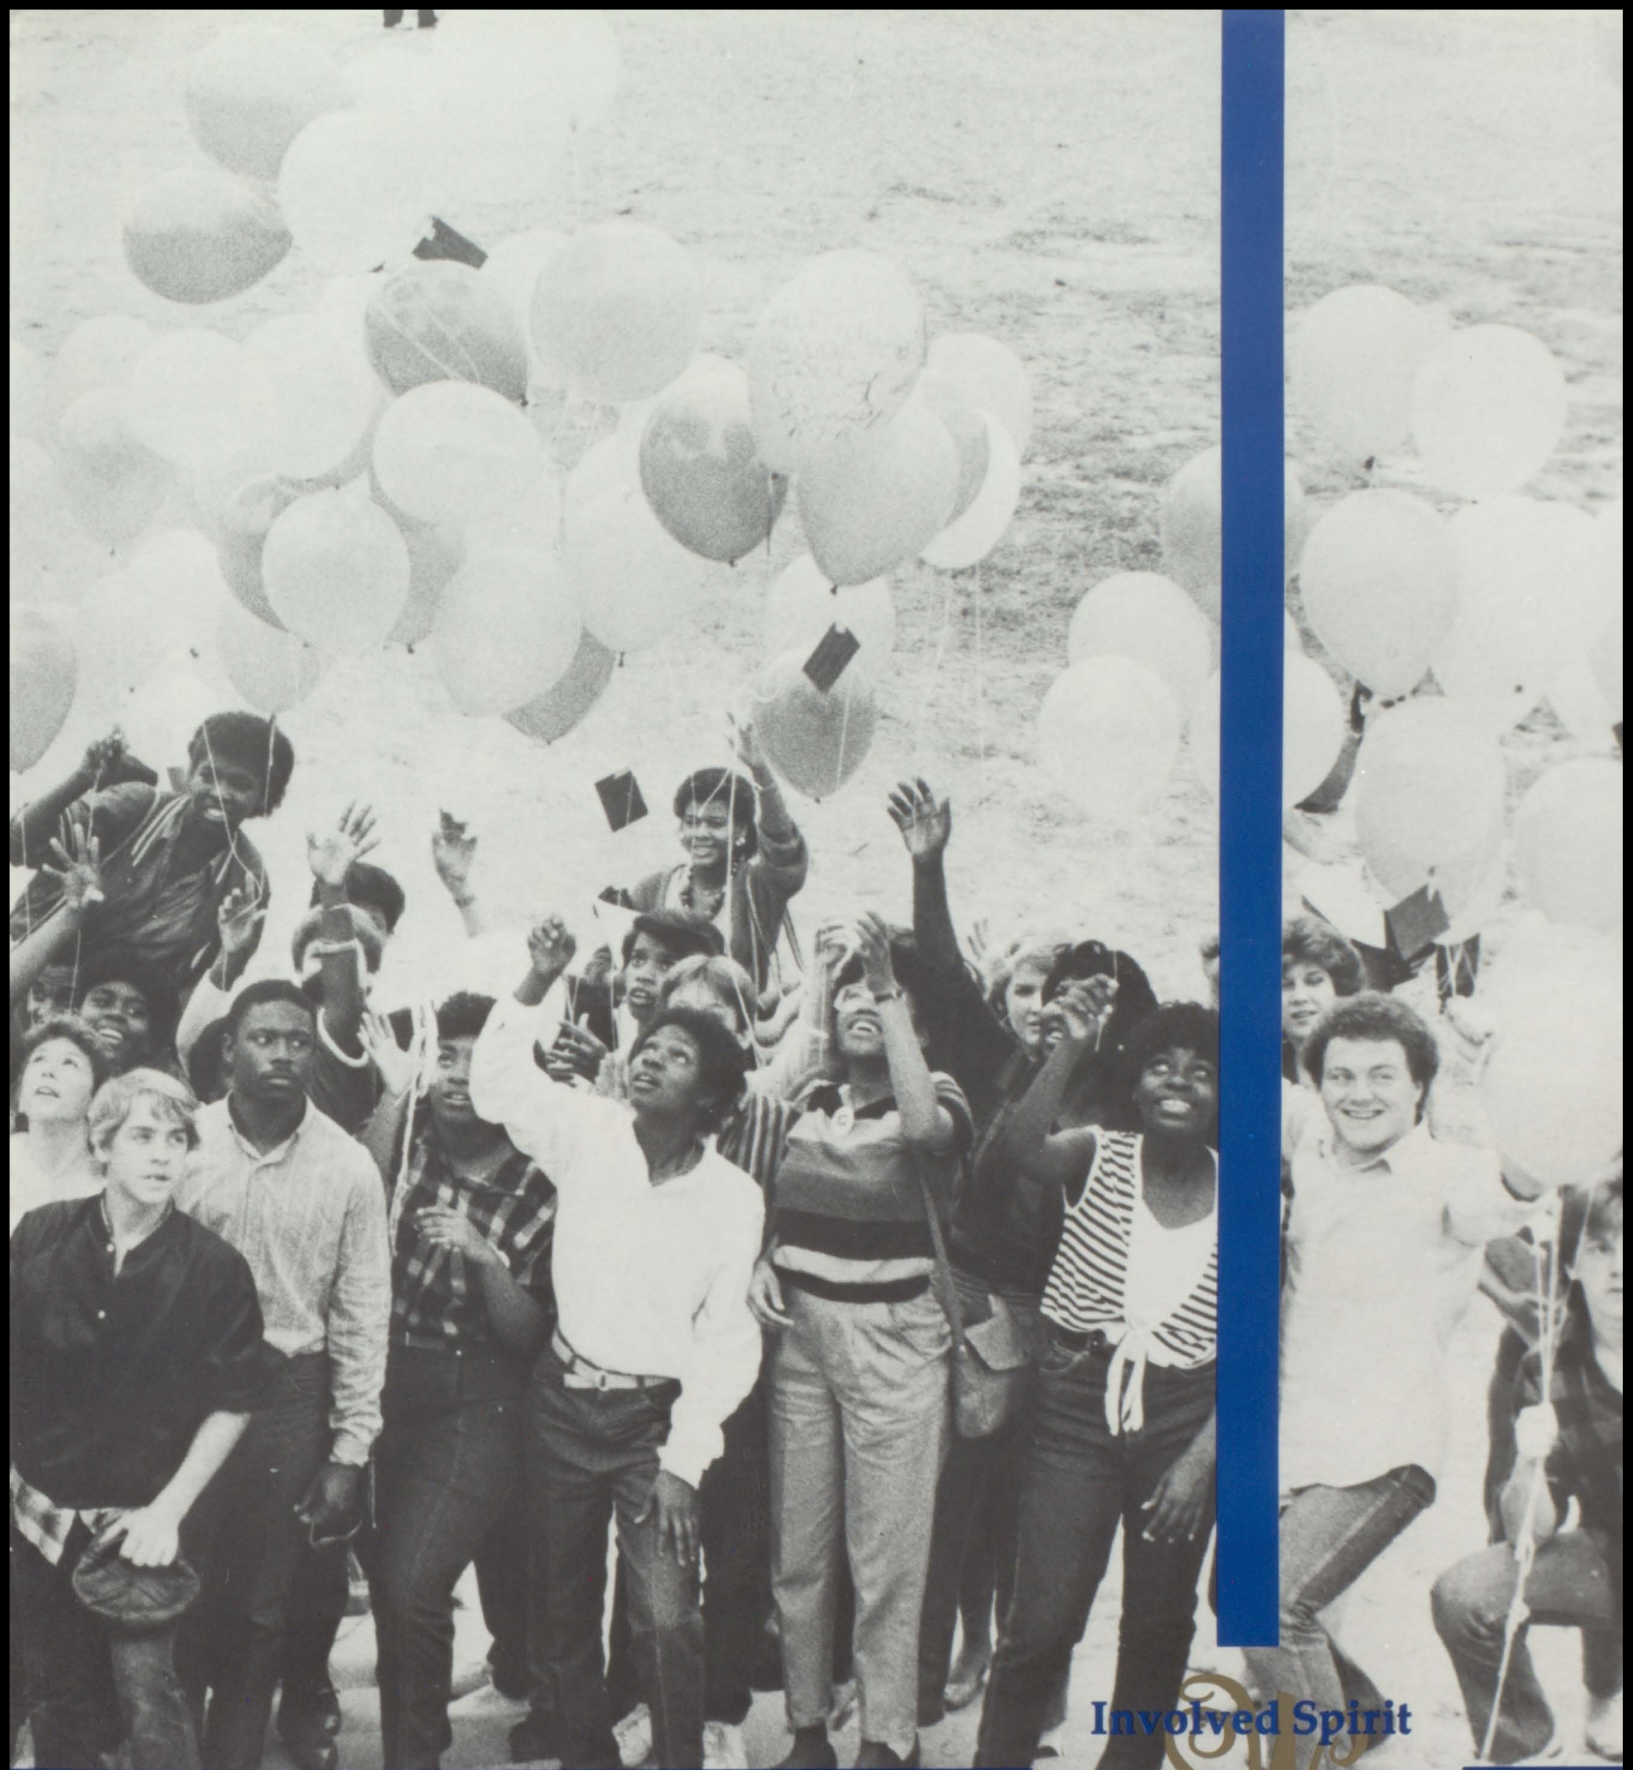

Excitement is characteristic of the Southwest spirit as it is displayed by the students and felt by the community. This spirit seems to come naturally to students at Southwest as they participate in a variety of school activities. What brings this exciting spirit to the Southwest campus? Everytime the Southwest Marching Band performs, excitement fills the air. The Southwest Boys' Basketball Team creates spirit with their dynamic play. The Drill Team has created an exciting new sensation on campus. The Jazz Ensemble's performances thrill their audiences. These activities and many more, help to create the exciting spirit that enhances life at Southwest and makes students proud to be considered Southwest Patriots.

PATRIOT MARCHING BAND

Southwest students during the 1985-86 school year had the opportunity to participate in an extraordinary array of activities. Certainly one of the largest and best known organizations in the complex was the Southwest Patriot Marching Band.

The band's high-energy performances added thrills and excitement to every football game. Consistently, the band displayed a halftime show which was overflowing with popular music and exciting drill exercises. Each performance was awaited with anticipation, since all of Southwest knew that the band's enthusiasm and driving beat would generate that special Southwest spirit.

For the enjoyment of the student body and the community, the band performed in a number of concerts throughout the year. As usual, the traditional Christmas Concert gave the boost which led to a merry holiday season for everyone. The band's grand finale was it's Spring Concert during which a variety of music was performed for the audience.

Spirit Marches On!

The motivation and conscientiousness displayed by the band is a bonding force which unifies all the Patriots. The talented members who compose the band exemplify the involved spirit which exists at Southwest. This unique spirit most certainly originates with the leadership and guidance provided by the directors, Oscar Jackson and Gerald Vickers.

Band members demonstrate their dedication and pride by beginning practice in early August under the scorching Macon sun. At least four hours a day are devoted to learning their intricate formations and routines. The band is known statewide for its outstanding spirit and was recognized by the City of Macon by being chosen to appear in a television commercial promoting Macon Spirit.

Leadership, Talent, and Practice

Innate talent goes a long way in building a fine band, but talent is for naught unless there is inspired leadership and rigorous practice. The combination of these factors led to Southwest's phenomenal success in 1985-86. At the G.M.E.A. District Eleven Solo and Ensemble Festival Sissy Busbee, Kim Carson, Katie Stokes, Clinton Stephenson, and the Jazz Ensemble received Superior Ratings. Excellent Ratings were awarded to Billy, Barron, Mia Lavette, Pierre Anderson, Andre Jackson, Matt Miller, Kim Carson, Katie Stokes, Ardra Davis, and Christie Barden.

Hot Jazz!

The Southwest Jazz Ensemble long ago earned a remarkable reputation in Bibb County and Georgia. It is considered quite a coup for the organizer of any community activity to manage to schedule the Jazz Ensemble on its program. For this reason, this talented group is busy throughout the year entertaining on numerous programs.

The year began with performances which included a luncheon sponsored by the United Way and entertainment at the Miss Afro-Macon Pageant. At school the Jazz Ensemble entertained at the Jesse Jackson Assembly and the Sweetheart Coronation. Macon's Cherry Blossom Awards Luncheon was entertained by the group.

April found the Jazz Ensemble participating in the annual competition held at Fort Valley State College by the Georgia Music Educators. Members of the band performed in solo as well as in ensemble competition. Members participated in the Columbus Jazz Ensemble Festival and the ABACK Jazz Festival. The Jazz Ensemble achieved superior marks at the University of Georgia Jazz Festival of Champions, and at the GMEA District Eleven Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Under the direction of Oscar Jackson, these musicians devoted a tremendous amount of time and effort to the creating of a musical group which is able to perform jazz and popular music at its best. To become a member of this elite group, one must prove his outstanding musical ability in a competitive audition. The Jazz Ensemble listed according to instrument: SAXOPHONES — Mike Whitfield, Kema Worthy, Chris Kirby, Lisa Mims, and Keith Banks. TRUMPETS — Scott Daniels, Ben Snead, and Charles Pecor. TROMBONES — Brian Tucker, Xavier Cottle, Gary Townsend, and Andrew Anderson. PIANO — Laura Puckett. DRUMS — Derrick Smith. BASSES — Charles Reid and Kevin Hicks.

BETA Club

For the Southwest Beta Club, it was a year of excitement and reward. Throughout the year, Betas participated in various activities that benefitted their school as well as their community.

After first quarter, Beta tapped the ninth grade members, and the ball was set rolling for the club as its membership neared 200. Various doughnut sales, blow-pop sales, and innumerable other service projects highlighted Beta's action-packed 1985-86 school year.

In February, 60 Betas and their advisors attended the State Beta Convention at the Hotel Waverly in Atlanta. With her theme, "March On With Marchman", club Vice-President Angela Marchman ran a spectacular campaign of red, white, and blue in her vie for the title of State President. Despite her loss, the club was well-represented in all areas of competition at the convention. It was an event not soon to be forgotten by anyone who attended.

The year was climaxed by the Beta Banquet. All Beta achievers were honored and it was announced that Angela Marchman would be the 1986-87 president. There was a tribute to the Senior Beta members, an impressive slide show, and the first Beta "Beagle Awards." With the presentation of top awards, it was the perfect finishing touch to a year in which Betas really "Marched On!"

Chorus, New and Varied

The Southwest Chorus has made a new beginning under the leadership of their talented director, Renee Kimberly. This year the group consisted of both a Girls' Ensemble and Jazz Rock Ensemble. The group made an outstanding first appearance at Macon Junior College. They also performed at the GMEA Eleventh District Festival. In addition, the choral group was invited to such distinct functions as the State PTSA convention and the PTSA meetings at school as well. They have also performed at assemblies for the tenth and twelfth grades. The chorus ended their triumphant year with their traditional Spring Concert.

Peer Counselor Program

Southwest has developed an outstanding program to reach students who need personal guidance and would benefit from an association with fellow students. This innovative program originated at the South-Five Complex in the fall of 1985. The young people who were chosen to serve as peer counselors had to make application for their positions and had to receive the recommendations of faculty members. To make certain that each of the peer counselors was prepared to assume his or her responsibilities there was a two-week training period during which time prospective counselors learned the extent of their duties.

The purposes of this program are to assist other students at Southwest and also to provide orientation for both new students and transfer students to this campus by acting as official guides. The program has proved to be very beneficial as it has helped to create closer bonds between students and has provided an invaluable learning experience for each student involved in the program.

Busy Group

The Complex Council is made up of an outstanding group of students who are responsible for organizing many school activities and making sure they run smoothly. They organized club days, homecoming week and its events, Goofy Goblins at Halloween, and the sale of Santa suckers at Christmas. The students also sold class jerseys, decorated the bulletin boards in each building, collected stuffed animals and toys for needy children, and distributed food and gifts to nursing home residents. They were responsible for all the activities during Spring Fling week and Senior Week.

Advised by Betty Stewart, these spirited students made all posters for the football and basketball games, supervised the "Orange Crush" pep rally. They visited the State Capitol to learn more about government.

The most memorable thing these students did this year, was a pep rally and skit to celebrate the Board of Education's decision to keep our school's name. This group of unique and hardworking students have made Southwest what it is today a school with a special spirit. Officers of Complex Council were President — Jennifer Bass; Vice-President — Amber Moxley; Secretary — Angela Marchman; Treasurer — Lisa Marcola; Chief-of-Staff — Regina Davis; Club Coordination — Carol Fellows; and P.A. — Clint Nelson.

Patriotism & Altruism

The students who participated in ROTC exemplify the qualities of leadership and patriotism. Led by Dorothy Bolton, Rosalind Rushin, and Quovardis Hightower, the Southwest Squad displayed much enthusiasm. Activities included daily rifle drills and exercises, as well as classroom study. Members involved themselves in the March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon and the Macon Jaycees' Haunted House. Another active group was the Octagon Club, advised by Richard Douglass. The club held Halloween and Christmas parties for the Macon Health Care Center. Members held another Christmas party for the Hephzibah Children's Home. Hours were spent playing soccer with the residents. Octagon worked at the 1986 Macon Health Fair.

Members held money-making projects that included a fashion show, talent show and an egg-a-thon.

Excitement Personified

A new organization on campus — The Southwest Drill Team — provided much enjoyment for the student body and community. Tryouts for the team began in April of 1985, and in the summer girls chosen for the team attended a training camp held at West Georgia College. When school resumed in the fall, team members began serious practicing. Their first public performance took place at Southwest's PTSA meeting, where the team was warmly received by those in attendance. The Drill Team performed superbly during halftime for the Varsity Boys Basketball Team, as well as at the Sweetheart Coronation in February. The Drill Team began tryouts in May, and everyone at Southwest is anticipating a fantastic drill team for the 86-87 school year.

Fun and Games!

The Pep and Trivial Pursuit Clubs had exciting years. The Pep Club, headed by Charles Murphy, was one of the largest and most active organizations on campus. The club provided transportation to and from many athletic events and sponsored the Sweetheart Coronation and the All-Sports Banquet. A spring trip to Montreal, New York City, New Orleans, Chicago, and Washington D.C. was sponsored by the club. Pep Club provided the prize for the winning supervision of Spring Fling Week — a free trip to Six Flags. The Trivial Pursuit Club led by Jim McBrayer, was a recreational organization. During club meetings, members enjoyed playing the popular board game. The most adept players of the game were said to be Blake Harper, Clint Stephenson, Nat Webb, and Melissa Wellborn.

KEY Club

KEY Club International is one of the many service clubs at Southwest. It is the largest youth service organization in the world, serving the U.S., Canada, and the Caribbean. Pam Howell advises the chapter at Southwest, which is composed of forty members. This is the second year that KEY Club has adopted the Oak Valley Nursing Home. They do several of their projects with the residents there, such as "Pet Pals" and parties for special holidays or events. They cooperated with the Humane Society for "Adopt-a-Pet" Day. They entered a state-wide Skate-a-thon for cystic fibrosis, and participated in a national Quaker Oats campaign in which they raised money for underprivileged children. At this year's Georgia District Convention they chose Janann Wright as Lt. Governor for the Ninth District.

Inspired By Technology

Southwest's Computer Club, advised by John King, was made up of students enrolled in computer classes. Mr. King teaches computer and was able to help the club members see the advantages of a computer career. The club visited computer labs on campuses such as the University of Georgia and Georgia Tech. Members sponsored computer contests and attended many career seminars. Members enjoyed doing community service projects for area nursing homes. To raise money for the club, the members sold candy and calendars.

VOCA in '86

VOCA was a group which consisted of students enrolled in the CVAE course. This club was one of the two chapters of VOCA which operated on the Southwest campus. This section was directed by Maston Bell, who was also a CVAE advisor. The club was always on the go, and participated in many activities, one of which being a Thanksgiving food drive for needy people. The organization qualified to participate in the regional contest in Crawford County as well. Also, awards were given to the club at the State Convention held on St. Simons Island.

Career Training

A second VOCA chapter on campus was directed by Clementine Wyche. This group sponsored a candy and calendar sale that enabled them to raise money for their various activities. Mrs. Wyche's club participated in the annual Officers Training Conference and attended regional and state VOCA competitions where they met with VOCA students from all over the state.

Being a member of VOCA offered students the chance to gain experience in planning and preparation for their future careers.

VICA Trains for Future Goals

What is VICA? The Vocational Industrial Club of America is a work oriented program which helps familiarize students with information and experience for their future jobs. This organization was created to provide students enrolled in trade, industrial, and technical education the opportunity to develop leadership abilities through participation in educational, vocational, civic, recreational, and social services.

To become a member of VICA students must be enrolled in the Diversified Cooperative Training Program and have a career objective in the trade and industrial areas. Members must be employed in that career area.

Under the capable leadership of Dorothy Black and Calvin Miller, the members of the VICA Clubs at Southwest have been given the opportunity to compete against other VICA students from all over the state of Georgia in Area Skills Contests and District Skills Contests.

Active in Community

Contrary to popular opinion, members of FHA do much more than prepare for a career in homemaking. Members strive to assume their roles in society in areas such as personal growth, family life, vocational preparations, and community involvements. FHA reaches this goal by participating in many school and community activities. One of their projects this year included Activity Day at Camp John Hope. The members also participated in the FHA March of Dimes Walk-of-America, and attended the FHA banquet. The organization also planned two fundraising projects which included a candy sale and selling of roses to students on Valentine's Day. Among the other numerous projects, they made Thanksgiving baskets for special families, and held a Christmas party for a local children's home.

Club members and their advisors, Vivian Hughes — FHA I, Veronica Collins-Calhoun — FHA II, and Janie Wach and Eliabeth White — FHA III, attended their Fall and Spring District III meetings, as well as their annual State Convention, which was held at the Marriott Hotel in Atlanta.

DECA Wins

Marketing Education is a program of study for DECA members interested in a career in the field of marketing. These students learn how to obtain a job, the selling process, ways to handle customer objections, marketing principles and practices, and America's Free Enterprise System. The 1985-86 school year proved to be a good one for the DECA Club. Members of this organization were active in their community and school. They provided man-power for the Red Cross Food Drive, sorted canned goods and boxed food, and prepared it to be delivered to homes throughout Macon. Also, they participated in the Hospitality and Tourism Project in Macon and in the Sixth District DECA Four members of the program: Christy DeBary, David Marshall, Sandy Bilow, and Pat Wallace came back winners.

Clubs Serve

Creativity and altruism are characteristic of two of Southwest's most active organizations. Led by Lisa Thomas and Dannah Graham, the Art Club volunteered at the "Very Special Arts Festival" for the handicapped in Milledgeville. Members set up a booth and had several thirty-minute workshops on kite-building and face-painting. Some members helped other artists with their workshops. Members held a Christmas party at the Hospitality Care Nursing Home where they visited the residents, brought gifts, sang carols, and served refreshments. Some enjoyed the visit to the nursing home so much that they have made a habit of regularly visiting their newly-found friends. Frater Sodalis, led by Henry Ficklin, garnered recognition through its community, as well as, school activities. Members were encouraged to participate in the Kiwanis' Show Fund and also the Humane Society Fund Show. Sodalis continued its tradition of beautifying the Southwest campus. Members planned to assist in the Special Olympics. They also bought listening equipment for Ms. Dean, a blind lady who spoke to students in McEvoy B.

Winning Publications!

With a staff numbering 22, Montage, Southwest's literary magazine participated in several competitions in addition to producing the publication. The 1986 magazine is under the editorship of Annette Snyder and is advised by Sherry Taylor.

Several staff members have won individual awards for achievement in writing and photography. Montage won a superior rating at the SIPA Convention in Myrtle Beach. During their event-filled year, the staff attended the Macon Junior College Creative Arts Festival and the Georgia Scholastic Press Association Convention in May. They planned to attend the SIPA summer convention in June which was to be held at the University of South Carolina. The publication was to be delivered during the fall, and its arrival is eagerly awaited. The staff of Southwest's newspaper, the Patri-Article, had another event-filled year. Advised by Sue Kabfleisch and edited by Junior Andy Busbee, the newspaper once again attained a high ranking at the Georgia Scholastic Press Association Competition which was held at the University of Georgia.

In addition to the time-consuming task of putting together each issue of the Patri-Article, the staff also found time to participate in fund-raising events such as holding a candy sale and sponsoring a game at the Spring Fling.

Unique Ideas for Service

Service projects received top priority on both the Vogue-Esquire and Leo Club calendars. Vogue-Esquire Advisors, Betty Amica and Ethel Dixon, helped members participate in a Thanksgiving project which involved making food baskets for senior citizens. They also participated in Black History Month by making coloring books for day-care center children. The books contained pictures of famous Blacks.

The Leo Club, led by Sue Kalbfleish, held a Halloween and a Christmas party at the Georgia Academy for the Blind. The club spent time at the North Macon Nursing Home playing games with the residents. They also wrote letters to their new friends. Members had a candy sale in order to raise funds.

Iowa University renewed the charter first awarded in 1961, and once again Southwest had a chapter of Quill and Scroll on campus. This organization is an international one which recognizes students who have performed superior work in some phase of journalism or school publication. Advisors are Ann Fugate, Sue Kalbfleisch, Diane Nix, and Sherry Taylor.

Civinettes— A Busy Year

Once again Southwest Civinettes had a successful year. This group of involved young women participated in many projects for the benefit of the community. They started out by having a "Welcome Back" party for the teachers. They also helped tremendously in the Third Annual Bill Boyd's Over 80 Birthday Club Party at the Macon Coliseum. At Halloween the club sponsored a party for children at the Ebenezer Methodist Church. Later in the year, Civinettes "adopted" three grandmothers and one sister from the Goodwill Nursing Home. Another project they participated in to benefit the community took place at the Macon Rescue Mission. These concerned students redecorated, repainted, and refurnished rooms in the Mission to make it a little better for the ones who stayed there. The members sent Christmas cards to Korean orphans as well.

At the Annual Civitan Convention, held on Jekyll Island, the Southwest Civinettes won both the Attendance Award and the Scrapbook Award. The club's President, Lori Minter, won President Civinette and Lieutenant Governor of the year.

Civitan

The Southwest Civitan Club had another productive and rewarding year. They taught people with Cerebral Palsy to swim, participated in a community "flea-dip" sponsored by the Humane Society, and decorated a tree at the Christmas exhibit at the Museum of Arts and Sciences.

At the Civitan annual convention at Jekyll Island, Southwest received many honors, one of which was second runner-up as the Most Improved Club. It also had the distinction of having two of its members elected to district offices. Eric Minter — Lt. Governor of Area 6 and Patrick Railey — Governor of South Georgia District.

Career Clubs

The Industrial Arts Club, advised by Ronald Taylor, attended the Georgia American Industrial Arts State Conference in Atlanta on April 11-13. The members showed their talent when they constructed their own projects, which were then put on sale in the Vocational Building. Officers for 1985-86 were: President — David Dennis; Vice-President — Cherylyn Moody; Secretary — Pam Whittaker; and Treasurer — Ronnie Colebrook. The Cosmetology Club grew in membership during the past year. Under the leadership of advisor Latrell Tidwell, this club demonstrated their talents in their annual Spring hairstyling contest. Tammy Heath received first place, Michelle Lewis was second and Janice Bell placed third. Club members raised money for their organization through the sale of comb and brush sets.

Future Farmers of America was a very active organization at Southwest. Their 60 members were advised by Erik Thompson and led by club President Sean Long, and Vice-President Don Gay. Their activeness was displayed through numerous events, such as school landscape projects, field trips to the Georgia Academy for the Blind and Cagles Hatchery, and local farms. Members displayed their talents in a Fair and Forestry Contests.

Y.A.D.

Youth Against Drugs was a new organization formed during the school year to discourage the use of drugs among the students at Southwest High School. Activities consisted of listening to speakers and watching films, as well as time spent after school in an effort to educate their classmates about the dangers of using drugs. The club established a poster campaign against drug abuse. The advisors of the club were Annette Crews, Rufus Johnson, Margaret Jackson, and William Lacefield.

Another new organization started in the 1985-86 Southwest school year was Students Against Drunk Drivers. Created to reduce the number of lives lost in alcohol-related driving accidents, this group ordered pens and bumper stickers to be distributed to all supervisions to promote student awareness. They also made posters which were placed in all buildings to inform the students of the newly-formed organization. The most prominent project in which they were involved was encouraging students not to drink while driving during the week of the Senior Prom. The advisor of Students Against Drunk Drivers is Doris Wellborn.

MAΘ Theta

"Doing things for people and lending a helping hand" were major concerns of Mu Alpha Theta. Members performed valuable services for the community and the students at Southwest. They decorated the doors of nursing homes and gave favors to three "adopted" math teachers. Members stayed after school every Wednesday to tutor other students to help them improve their math ability.

Life Savers!

Youth Against Cancer was an organization formed this year by a group of students who were concerned about smoking and its consequences. The club participated in several activities, such as the Great American Smoke-Out Day. One of these activities was the releasing of hundreds of balloons on campus. They also decorated the Macon Health Care Center for Halloween, and held a Christmas party for the children at the Medical Center of Central Georgia.

Travel & Fun For Members

The Spanish Club, advised by Barbara Blount, took on the task of spreading Spanish culture and art in Macon and the Bibb County School System by performing various folk dances. Membership in the organization was voluntary, but students had to be enrolled in Spanish I, II, or III.

The Social Studies Club, led by John Matthews, had another busy year. Members helped at the Special Olympics, as well as taking their annual trip during Spring Holidays to study different sections of the country and different forms of government. This year the club members travelled to Canada to study, first-hand French culture. The Science Club, under the direction of James Hinson, travelled to the Museum of Arts and Sciences to view Halley's Comet. Club members went to Alexander IV to pass out candy and pencils to children. Science teachers were given Santa Clauses filled with candy at Christmas. Members also conducted the Science Olympiad at Southwest and helped to check blood for sugar content and iron content during the Cherry Blossom Festival.

Although it started as a childhood fancy, collecting dolls has become an important aspect of Lisa William's life. As a lover of dolls, Lisa decided to make them her hobby when she received her first adoption doll at the age of twelve. Since then, Lisa has been an avid collector and at the present, she has over 100 dolls. She says, "I love my dolls; they are like pets to me."

Most people might assume that Lisa will "outgrow" this love for dolls, but it is more likely that she will continue to enjoy them and join those who make collecting dolls a very popular hobby.

Scott Davis developed an interest in racing early in life. "My Dad has been racing about 20 years. It was just a matter of time before I got my chance!" Scott got his chance when a friend of his father's built a track which he was allowed to use. Since that time Scott has participated in a number of state races in Valdosta and Bainbridge and has joined the World Karting Association.

Currently ranked seventh in the Georgia-Florida State Championship, Scott spends his weekends racing. Sponsored by Marvin Dykes, this year alone Scott has won twelve trophies. Scott's plans for the future include racing cars like his dad and hopefully being successful enough to have an affluent lifestyle

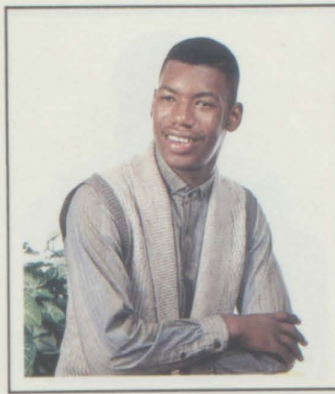

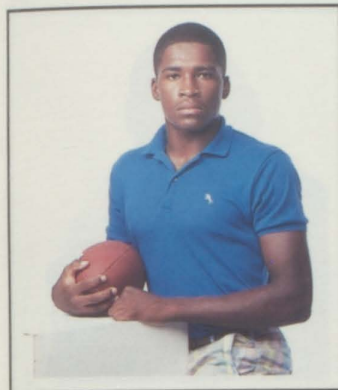

Ben Snead possesses a talent that many of us do not have — the gift of music. He became interested in music and horns in particular while listening to the radio. Ben started on the trumpet, but soon diversified and started playing the Frenchhorn, Baritone, Tuba, and the little Trombone. He has achieved a degree of excellence which has enabled him to win numerous plaques, trophies, and medals. Monetarily, his talent is rewarding as he has won $3000. Although his hobby has meant a great deal to him, Ben does not plan to turn his talent into a career. Instead, he plans to study medicine and become a doctor.

Although active in cheerleading, softball, science related activities, school, and working at Belk Matthews, Kim Duggan still finds time to devote to her hobby of collecting ducks. Since first admiring a wooden mallard in a shop window several years ago, Kim has managed to accumulate a menagerie of ducks of every description — duck pictures, planters, figurines, pocketbook, and even duck wallpaper. Additionally, she has raised eight real mallards at her mother's lake.

Kim's career goal is to become a computer programmer, however she feels ducks will continue to be important to her. Certainly her large and varied collections are evidence of that.

Since age 12, Ben Caldwell has been interested in all types of music. Rock, soul, jazz, blues, and classical have been favorites of Ben's since those early years. Upon entering high school, Ben made the decision to channel some of his musical enthusiasm into starting a band. He and three of his friends, also musical enthusiasts, got together to form a band. Matt Burch, Heath Menchew, Jody Sikes, and Ben have since gained reknown as the Mind Circuit. Since the formation of their band, the Southwest Seniors have been extremely active. They have won third place in the Macon Junior

Battle of the Bands, they have done a charity show at Charter Lake Hospital and performed in the Senior Homecoming Assembly. Well on a road to success, Ben and the members of Mind Circuit have high aspirations and have already made their first music video.

While spending the summer with her grandmother, Pam Thrasher developed first a curiosity and then a real interest in one of the lady's favorite hobbies — crocheting. Pam's hobby has resulted in several projects which reflect her pride in her work, her expertise, and many long hours spent crocheting.

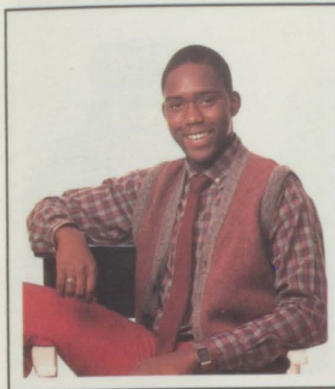

Pam's eye for colors is evident in her future baby's blanket of turquoise, pink, yellow, and white. Her boyfriend has benefited from her hobby as he has received a camouflage afghan.

Pam is proud of her hobby and considers it important to her, for as she says, "It's something I can do that many people can't do."

DeAnna Barnes says, "It's not easy being a swimmer. We practice every morning from 7 to 9, and usually swim about 6,000 yards. We have meets every week-end."

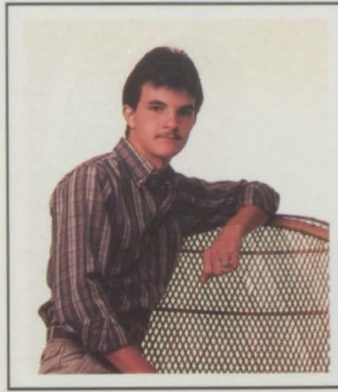

There are many compensations for the time DeAnna has devoted to being a member of the Macon Waves. She travelled all over Georgia, swam for cancer, and taught youngsters to swim. Most importantly, she has formed many close friendships.

Although active in school and planning a career in science, DeAnna still finds time for swimming. She says, "I absolutely cherish the time I spend in the water."

Working with the CETA-JPTA Summer Job Program during her 1985 summer vacation provided Alfratina Dean the opportunity to not only work with senior citizens, but also to develop a new avocation. Her skill at making bridal doll pillows has enabled Alfratina to decorate her home, have lovely presents to give friends on their birthdays, and to increase her income. To date she has sold twenty of her creations at $15 per doll.

Since she stays so busy with her school work, Alfratina finds little time for her hobby, but it still remains important to her not only because the end product is quite beautiful, but also because it gives her quiet time to think.

Paula Jenkins developed the desire to play the piano at an early age. In the third grade Paula began piano lessons which culminated this spring in her senior recital. She even creates and plays her own compositions.

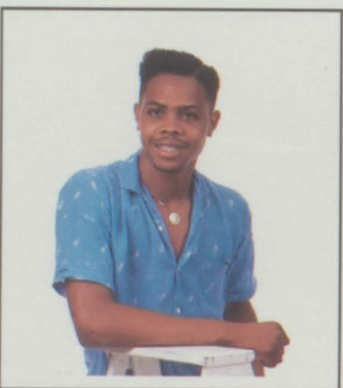

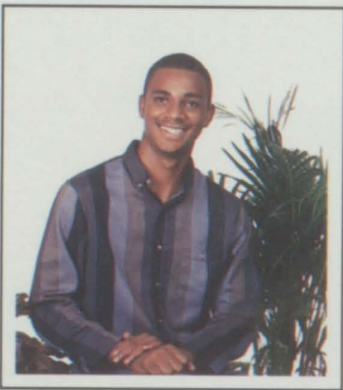

Paula's school activities have included tutoring for MAØ, serving as Science Club president, and participating in Science Bowl competitions and the Governor's Honors Program. She was a National Merit Semifinalist. These activities added to the importance of her musical hobby, for as Paula said, "Playing the piano has been a great way to release my emotions and to control them."

Jim Farr has been an enthusiast of the martial arts since the age of eight. At that time, like many children, he enjoyed watching martial arts movies and quickly developed an admiration for and interest in Karate.

Jim's leisure time is spent practicing and perfecting his art. He is a member of the American Tae-Kwon-Do Association. His efforts have been rewarded as he has earned many awards from each belt he has achieved. He definitely plans to continue developing his skill in order to achieve his degrees in black belt.

Karen Evans has chosen a very competitive field for her career — that of news broadcasting. Encouraged by a number of teachers through her school years and more recently by Monica Koffman, news anchor for Channel 2 in Atlanta, Karen had worked diligently to develop an early interest in public speaking. She has taken advantage of many opportunities to speak in numerous oratorical contests. Fortunately Karen was able to participate in the Bibb County Intern Program and has worked at WMAZ with people like Maureen O'Boyle, with whom she is pictured.

1985-1986 Superlatives

What are Superlatives? This dynamic group of young people chosen by the Senior Class, represents the qualities that all Southwest Patriots should display. These young people are intellectuals, achievers, athletes, fashion plates, enthusiasts, leaders, everyone's friends, and in one ambiguous category, they are all of these things and much, much more. The Superlatives traditionally reflect the personality of the class they represent — the class which votes to choose them and thus, to honor them.

Therefore, it is with pride that the Spirit of '86 presents the Senior Superlatives for the 1985-86 school year — Best All Around, Deanna Hill and Lenzy Reid; Most Likely to Succeed, Regina Davis and Ace Cranford; Most Academic, Amanda Pecor and Chris Hall; Most Spirited, Sheryl Bloodworth and Eddie Walker; Most Athletic, Angela Hill and Milton Cuyler; Best Personality, Tracy Fuller and Brian Jones; Most Popular, Joy Webb and Jarratt Cross; Best Dressed, Pamela Reynolds and Johnny Pitts.

Acknowledged as one of the historic treasures of Macon, the Hay House is on the United States Historical Register of Homes and is one of the major tourist attractions of Macon. Built in the 1850's by William Butler Johnston for his bride, it escaped damage during the Civil War and stands today as a monument to Macon's fascinating heritage.

Running Southwest: An Art and a Science

Gloria Washington, Gerald Stuart, Harold Perdue, Anne Hadarits, and Roger Greene, working together form a successful leadership team which governs the community that is known as Southwest High School. Their responsibilities are numerous and the pressure is sometimes intense, but together they provide a positive learning environment, as well as a continuous source of spirit, an air of friendliness, and a sense of well-being for all of the students and faculty at Southwest.

Leading the Bibb County School System is Dr. Thomas Hagler. As Superintendent for the past five years, he has led the system through numerous innovations and changes. Dr. Robert Williams, Deputy Superintendent, has served the educational needs of the young people of the community as both a teacher and principal before assuming his present responsibilities at the Central Office. Dr. Dave Brotherton, Assistant Superintendent-Secondary Education, has followed a family tradition of dedication to and involvement in public education. His efforts, since coming to Bibb County in 1983, have added to the prestige of the public school system.

Pride & Duty

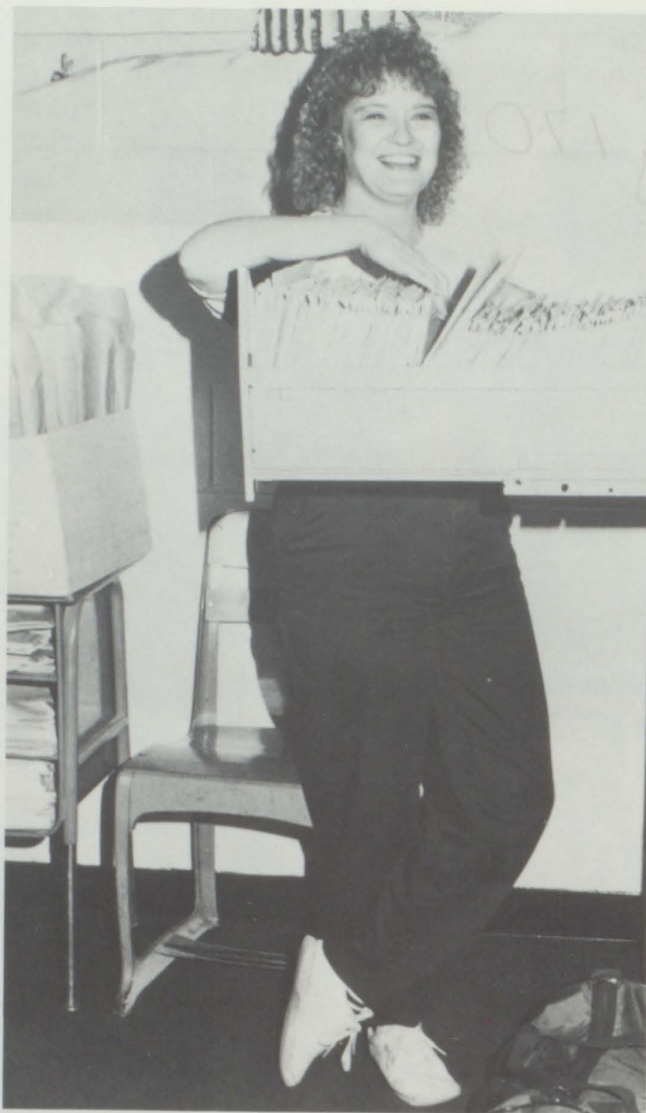

It is obvious that the tasks of the clerical workers, registrars, and media aides of Southwest are endless, but unanimously, these ladies express satisfaction with their jobs. Most agree with Sara-Frances Colbert, who says the best part of her job is, "Working with a wonderful faculty and relating to most of the students at Southwest".

Tasks performed by these indispensable workers include working with the counselors, maintaining adequate student records, making schedule changes, book-keeping, and signing students in and out of school. Other tasks include typing of any kind, calling absentees, and dealing with the general public. This ensures every clerical worker of a busy day, everyday.

Some of these workers have enjoyed their jobs so much that they have remained at Southwest for ten years or longer. These dedicated people include Wilma Fussell, Mildred Harrell, Janice Childers, and Sara-Frances Colbert.

These ladies' sense of devotion is evidenced by Janice Childers. Ms. Childers' school day continues long after most students have gone. As the advisor of the ninth grade cheerleading squad, she is assured of an exhausting day.

Esterine Stokes — Registrar, MB; Kathy Tucker — Secretary, WB.

Elaine Wilson — Secretary, MA; Eleanor Wilson — Secretary, WA.

Helping Hands

Helping students is the main concern of the counselors at Southwest. John Crawford says, "I enjoy helping students to help themselves and to realize their potential and goals." A counselor's duties are never-ending. Along with individual and group counseling, they must assist students in exploring, selecting, and following through on alternatives to achieve future goals. Conducting student activities based on the interests and needs of students is also a main concern of counselors. Getting students ready for tests, resolving schedule conflicts, working with parents and the community, and organizing the PSAT and SAT are some of the tasks that occupy the counselors' time and attention.

Media Specialists lend a helping hand to teachers and students in selecting adequate resource materials and in operating and maintaining audio-visual equipment and materials that are to be used.

Golden Memories

Some teachers at Southwest were not only top-notch in their academic work, but also in their school-related activities. Ann Fugate earned the honor of being captain of her school's girls' basketball team in her senior year. That year, she also received the Most Valuable Player and Most Athletic Girl Awards.

Cheering for her home team was Judy Moore. In her senior year she was chosen captain of the cheerleaders, a senior superlative, and was one of the school's beauties.

Showing her spirit during halftime was Margaret Jackson. She was a majorette and a class officer. Dorothy Black's schedule included the drama club, chorus, intramural sports, and cheerleading. Carol Davis was involved in Beta Club, History Club, school band, chorus, newspaper staff, and literary competitions. Tom Baker was active in baseball, football, and track. John Crisp was involved in Beta Club, ROTC, and had a part in the senior play.

Extraordinary SW Educators

For the past two years Bibb County's Teacher of the Year has been a member of the Southwest faculty.

Pam Wacter of Willingham B received this honor and recognition for the 1985 — 1986 school year. Also honored by being nominated for this prestigious award was Mary Weaver of McEvoy B.

Mrs. Wacter, inspired by her mother who was a Willingham teacher, feels her strongest attributes are her compassion and her calm nature. Although covering the required course content and skills in English is always of the utmost importance, her main goal is to make every student feel his or her importance.

Mary Weaver's reknown sense of humor and caring attitude have made social studies a positive experience for thousands of students over the past 29 years. Her excellence as a teacher was recognized by her being awarded the distinguished McKibben Lane Award for 1986.

Sharing a common philosophy with all exceptional teachers, Ms. Weaver feels that each student should be treated as an individual and should experience success.

After School Activities

The Southwest faculty is a well-rounded group of individuals with varied interest.

Tom Baker is a biking enthusiast whose interests include touring, camping, and racing. Participating in biathlons allows Mr. Baker to combine his love of biking with running.

Carol Davis, an avid bridge player and member of two bridge clubs, is also a talented craftsperson who enjoys sewing and quilting.

Bowling is right up Ann Fugate's alley. Named Bowler of the Year for Macon in 1980, she has bowled in 17 state and 10 national tournaments. In April she travelled to Orange County, California, to participate in the Women's International Bowling Congress National Tournament.

James Hinson's expertise in archery began approximately 25 years ago when he joined an archery club. An interest in hunting with the bow and arrow quickly developed. Not only is he a certified archery instructor, but also travels throughout Georgia participating in competitive shooting.

Reminiscing

Some faculty members are reminded daily of the experiences they had in high school, because they are graduates of Southwest.

Margaret Faircloth, a member of the newspaper staff, called the Bonnie Blue Print, remembers when the schools were segregated by sex. In her senior Pat Wilder was the Editor-in-Chief of the yearbook, called the Ramscott.

Memories for Gloria Stokes are of cheering for the Rams football team at Willingham. She was encouraged by McEvoy principal William Brake to attend college, major in Latin and return to teach at McEvoy.

While serving as Senior Class President, Raynette Evans worked closely with Gloria Washington, who was experiencing her first year as building principal.

Southwest is populated by the following graduates who returned to serve their alma mater: Sheila Bell, Bonny Brown, Carole Eleam, Raynette Evans, Margaret Faircloth, Jimmy Hammond, Iris Hill, Cheryl Knight, Marsha Layson, Virginia Phillips, Sandy Rogers, Esterine Stokes, Gloria Stokes, Kathy Tucker, Gerald Vickers, and Patricia Vinson.

Mr. Perdue Retires in '86

Mr. Harold Lee Perdue, Principal of Willingham A since the summer of 1970, decided that the closing of the 1986 school year would mark the end of his career at Southwest.

Mr. Perdue's long career in education began in 1951 when he returned to his alma mater, Ballard-Hudson High School, to teach mathematics. He became an assistant principal and then a principal at Unionville Elementary School, Peter G. Appling Junior High School, and Appling A.

Not confining his energies just to school, Mr. Perdue has been an elder in Macon's historic Washington Avenue Presbyterian Church, as well as serving as a member of the Mission Division of the Presbytery of Georgia. He has also been active in many professional organizations including Phi Delta Kappa, National Education Association, Georgia Association of Educators, Bibb Association of Educators, and the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

The students and faculty at Southwest will miss Mr. Perdue's warm smile and congenial personality.

Alternatives

Most Southwest teachers would not change their decisions to teach school, but a number did share their alternative career choices. The results were interesting and varied.

Margaret Faircloth's alternative career choice was that of a Supreme Court Justice. Her interest in the criminal justice system was aroused when she disagreed with the jury's decision in a murder trial. Since college, Cynthia Carey has been interested in news broadcasting. Communicating with people through various media has always been a favorite activity of hers. Annette Crews would utilize her dramatic ability and spontaneity to pursue a career in the theater. Iris Hill's alternative career choice would be either a career in the military or one in medicine. The field of physical therapy holds a particular fascination for her. Had Dannah Graham not decided to become a teacher, she would have used her artistic talent to create her own fashion line.

Jim McBrayer provided two of the most intriguing alternative career choices. He would have been an author of children's books or an actor on a children's television program.

Devoted Workers

Devotion and endless hours of service to Southwest are the trademarks of Southwest's custodial staff and lunchroom personnel. These hard-working individuals put forth much time and effort to keep our surroundings clean and our lunches attractive and nutritious. They display a caring attitude toward their job and try to do everything possible to assist the students, staff, and faculty at Southwest.

The custodial staff exhibits extra effort to help keep the classrooms at Southwest clean and attractive by doing little extras, such as washing blackboards, cleaning desks, and "pledging" the furniture.

Student Life

It's That Time Again

I woke up that morning to the "Death Bell" that signified the beginning of a new school year. I looked at the clock — 6:00 A.M.?! "No, no! It must be a dream. It can't be September 3rd!" I killed the clock and fell back to sleep. I dreamed that it was the first day of school, only to awaken and find my mother beating me over the head with a pillow. I crawled from the bed to the shower. It was the beginning of the end, or so it seemed.

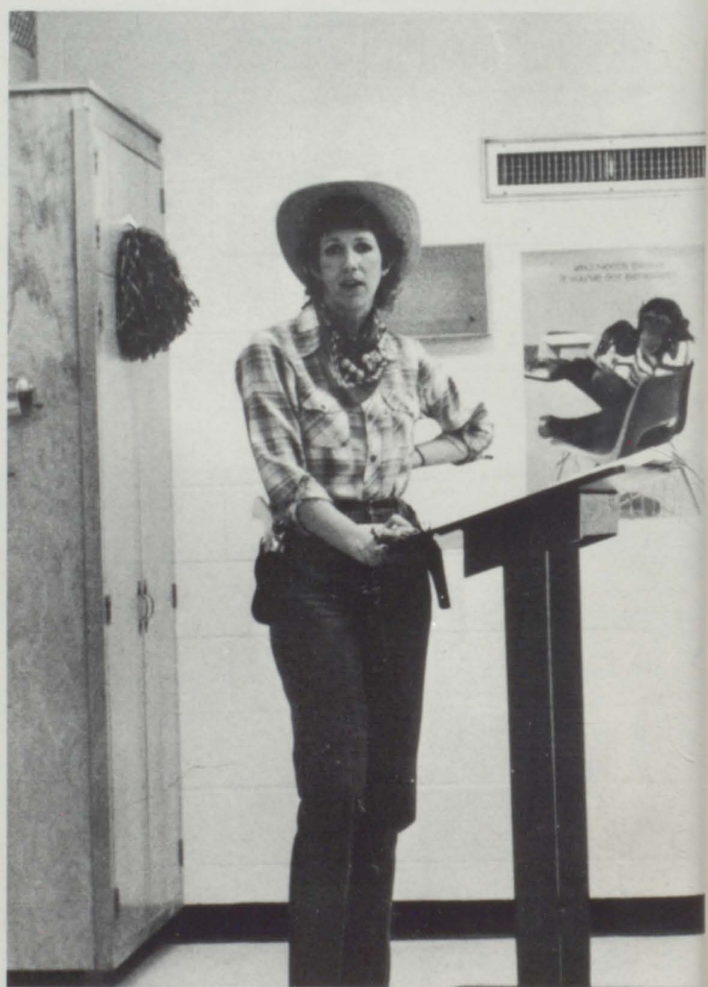

Finally I arrived at the school which had come alive with old friends and new confused faces. People were going every which way trying to find the right building, not to mention the right room.

As the day progressed, the temperature rose. It seemed to be hotter than it had been all summer! Local funeral homes felt sorry for us and they contributed hand-held fans. The fans proved to be of little help! Along with the heat and humidity, there was excitement in the air as we prepared for "The Big Game". Yes, Southwest was to play Central in football that very Friday. I barely had time to think about my classes or getting situated with all this going on.

By the next week, things had calmed down considerably. Everyone was happy that we had "crushed" the Central Chargers (I knew all along we would). People were finally settling into the hum-drum school life. Before the week was out, our teachers were complaining about having been back to work too long! (After all, they do start back before we do!) Last year's annuals were back now, too. They were great! Everyone said they were the best that Southwest has ever had. I hoped that we would will be able to say that next year!

Excitement reigned at Southwest during Homecoming Week. The entire student body joined together to create a week of fun-filled spirit and enjoyment. The week offered various activities to motivate each student.

The bright colors of the Pacific bloomed on campus on Hawaiian day. Western Day found students toting toy guns and dressing in blue jeans, cowboy boots, and hats. Pee Wee Herman Day produced hilarious laughter as imitators of the famous comedian clowned around in their mismatched outfits. The day also consisted of a contest to prove just who was the craziest and nerdiest dresser of them all. Terry Ledford won first place in that contest. To end the week of dressing-up, everyone wore tee-shirts displaying their favorite musical groups. The last day of Homecoming week, spirit really shined at the South-five campus as the students dressed in jeans and Southwest jerseys.

Fire It Up, Southwest!

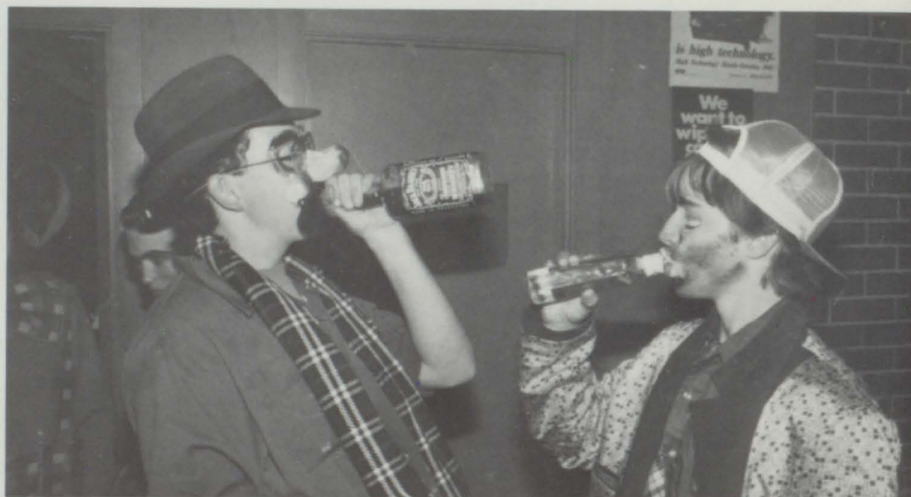

Throughout the year pep rallies boosted spirit among the students at Southwest. They provided a source of enthusiasm for the upcoming football games. Southwest has always had a reputation for spirited and loyal students, and this was very evident at each pep rally held during the year.

The football game against the Central Chargers gave upperclassmen the opportunity to not only show their spirit, but also to initiate the freshmen to the excitement of a Southwest pep rally. Organized by Student Council, this particular pep rally set the tone for the level of spirit that lasted throughout the 1985 football season. As the football players demolished an orange car (which of course represented arch-rival, Central High School), onlookers cheered with excitement in anticipation of that night's game. Members of the Southwest Marching Band provided the driving beat that got the football team in the mood to stomp Central.

Goblins Aid Community

This year Southwest continued the tradition of Goofy Goblin Week. This event, sponsored by Student Council, coincides with the celebration of Halloween. As in years past, each class elected representatives for the event. During Goofy Goblin Week, these representatives collected money for needy families. Goofy Goblins were easily recognized as each one carried a Halloween pumpkin into which students dropped their donations. On Friday each representative dressed in costume. They collected a grand total of $550. Representatives who collected the largest amounts of money were: Ninth grade, Shannon Campbell ; Tenth grade, Lisa Marcola ; Eleventh grade, Kevin Worsham ; and Twelfth grade Jennifer Bass.

V.I.P. Visits Southwest

"I am somebody, and I can achieve anything." With these words, Reverend Jesse Jackson began an address that touched the lives of many at Southwest.

The founder of the Rainbow Coalition and PUSH, preacher, international peacemaker, presidential hopeful and civil rights advocate made a whirlwind visit to the Southwest campus on Wednesday, November 13, 1985.

His dynamic personality and speaking style captured the attention of the fortunate students and guests who were able to attend the program in the McEvoy B gym. Fortunately his speech was piped via the intercom throughout the entire complex.

Widely respected for his interest in the young people of the nation, Jackson fervently expounded on some of the topics closest to his heart. He emphasized the importance of getting an education and of devoting as much effort to the pursuit of that education as teenagers devote to their other activities and interests. He emphasized the dangers inherent in the use of drugs and alcohol, and the disaster of teenage pregnancy, a crisis affecting the entire nation.

In his wake he left a recommitted student body, staff and faculty determined to work diligently for the achievement of personal goals and for the success of our school and society. As an example of this determination, students and faculty members formed a new organization on campus — Youth Against Drugs.

One of the invited guests, Dr. Thomas Hagler, Superintendent of the Bibb County schools, was so impressed by the reception accorded Reverend Jackson and by his message, that he invited him to return to speak to all Bibb County Secondary students.

Give the Gift of Life

The 1985 Red Cross Blood Drive was a success at Southwest. For many years the Red Cross has looked to the Southwest students and faculty for help and support in this important event. This year a total of 119 people participated, illustrating once again the support Southwest gives the community.

Each year, members of the faculty and student body sign-in to the McEvoy B gym to give a very valuable gift. The gym is filled with tired people who have big hearts and usually a cup of orange juice. They actually give a part of themselves. Blood is needed in our hospitals every day. The motto for the blood drive this year was: "When you give of yourself is when you truly give".

'Tis The Season...

The Southwest campus with an energetic spirit during the Christmas season. The spirit of giving filled the air as students reached into their pockets to contribute to people in need and to buy gifts for friends and relatives. The Student Council had a successful project selling chocolate Santa Clauses. On the Friday before Christmas, assemblies were held for the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes, with entertainment being provided by the Southwest band and skits performed by students. The Seniors started their Christmas festivities with the annual Senior Christmas party, at which a skit was presented by members of the Senior class. Refreshments were served and gifts were exchanged. The Seniors then enjoyed the annual tradition of "The Twelve Days of Christmas" performed by faculty members in McEvoy B.

Southwest Sweethearts

The 1986 Miss Sweetheart Coronation was once again an elegant evening to be remembered. This event, sponsored by the Pep Club, has become a Valentine tradition, as some of Southwest's loveliest young ladies compete for the title of Miss Sweetheart. Entertainment for the event was provided by the Jazz Ensemble, dance routines by the Majorette Corps and Drill Team, and a vocal selection by Ingrid Evans. After contestants were introduced by Masters of Ceremony Charles Murphy and Rufus Johnson, the magic moment was then at hand as the winners were announced. Miss Freshman — Michelle Mayo; Miss Sophomore — Samantha Jackson; Miss Junior — Kim Stuart; Miss Senior — Angie Wheeler. The first, second, and third runners-up, in order, were Tina Faris, Vette Howard, and Jennifer Jolley. Tracy Fuller was crowned Miss Sweetheart 1986.

Spring Comes To Southwest

Spring on the Southwest campus was, as always, one of the most exciting times of the past year. There was an abundance of activities around campus as students looked forward to the completion of yet another school year. During Easter, Civinettes sold and delivered Easter Bunnies. The Pep Club took their annual trip sponsored by Charles Murphy to Canada and New Orleans. The Art Club, sponsored by Lisa Thomas and Dannah Graham, held their Third Annual Art and Photography Show. Other activities included the Intramural Basketball Program between clubs, Brewton Parker's Band and Chorus performing for the Seniors, and the supervision representatives decorating for the Prom. Spring Fling was held again at Southwest, and many participated in different activities. It proved to be a fun-filled experience for all, with many kinds of games and booths, and a softball game between the students and the faculty.

A Reason to Celebrate

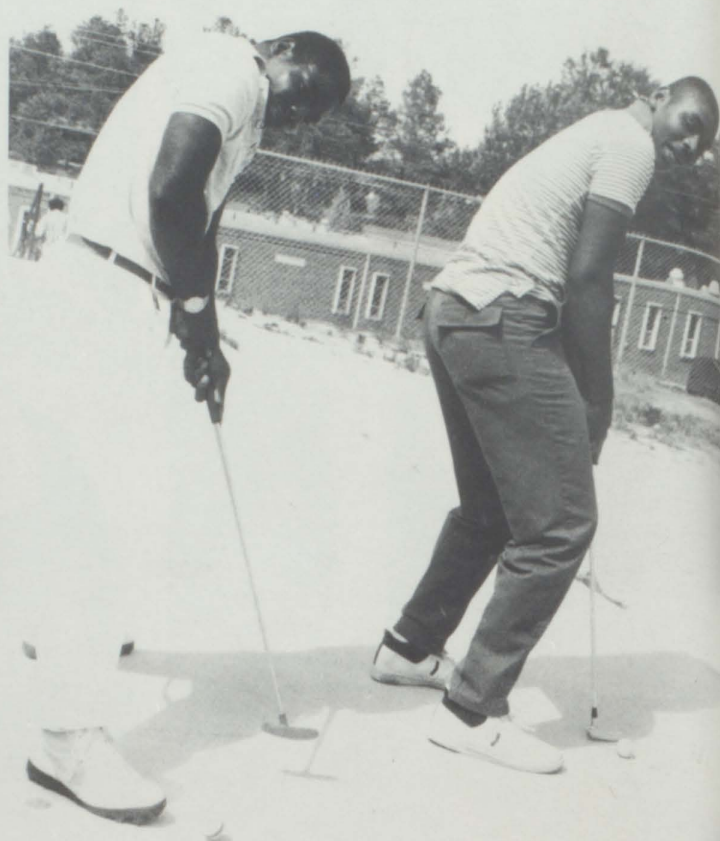

The pride of the student body and faculty of Southwest shone through during the Celebration Assemblies. What, you ask, was there to celebrate? The Bibb Board of Education adopted a plan to change the names of the three public high schools in Macon. Students and faculty felt that a name change would mean a decrease in spirit. After many letters and petitions, there was another vote by the Board and the decision was repealed.

The excitement led the student council to hold a celebration assembly. There were moving speeches made about the meaning behind the Southwest name and a skit showing how Southwest spirit grew from the time it first became one united complex.

TOP, LEFT TO RIGHT: Everyone stands as Valerie Moore sings the national anthem. Brad Marchman, Stephanie Scott, and Clint Nelson demonstrate life as a "flower child." Spring Fling

Reviving a Southwest tradition, Patriots participated in Spring Fling. It was each supervision for itself, the winning supervision being treated to an all-expense paid trip to Six Flags. During April and the beginning of May, students from each class participated in various events to win points for their supervision.

Senior supervision 210 spured on by their high-energy and tireless supervisor Gwen Bell proved to be the supervision with the most Southwest Spirit.

Fads and Fashions

It doesn't matter what you wear, just as long as you are there . . .

"There" is Southwest, where a student's clothes speak louder than their words. More than ever, today's teenagers are breaking out of the mold. Instead of following the popular fads of the "in-crowd," they are wearing what makes them comfortable.

Many different styles can be found at Southwest. There is everything from the preppy look to modern, athletic to punk, and, of course, traditional.

Curing Spring Fever!

One of the most exciting days at Southwest this past year was Spring Fling Day. It was the climactic ending to an entire month of spirit-filled activities. All students had an opportunity to participate in the various games and booths during the entire lunch period. These booths were sponsored by different clubs and were located on the soccer field in the center of campus. Such booths ranged from a Wedding Booth by the Civinettes to an Astrology and Fortune Telling Booth, as well as a "Wheel of Fortune" Booth by the Science Club and a "Friends Forever" booth from the KEY Club. There were even opportunities to throw various objects at your favorite teachers! Volunteer students and faculty members played each other in a softball game as well. The faculty reigned victorious in the game. It was an opportunity for a little freedom and diversity on a hot spring day at Southwest — a definite cure for "Spring Fever."

Athletic Awards

The 1985-86 Southwest athletic season came to a close with the annual All-Sports Banquet, organized by the Southwest Pep Club and sponsor Charles Murphy. The speaker for the evening was a former student of Southwest, Kelvin Middleton. He is now a member of the Pittsburgh Steelers. After his inspiring and uplifting speech, the spotlight was focused individual athletes and their accomplishments.

The Zachary Carter Award, given to the best all-around athlete and student, was presented to Milton Cuyler. Special awards were presented to outstanding band members Oscar Jackson. The Coach of the Year trophy was awarded to Eddie Ashley. The trophies were then presented to the outstanding athletes for their contributions to their respective sports: FOOTBALL — Rudolph Pennimon, Bernard Sharpe, Rico Whipple, Kelvin Bryson, Walt Massey, Ernest Henderson, Anthony Kelly, Chris Simmons; BOYS' TRACK — Reginald Wilson, Antonio Pettigrew, Sidney Holston, Chris Wilson, Ricky Jones; GIRLS' TRACK — Kim Wright, Kathy Torres; BASEBALL — Milton Cuyler, Greg McKinney, Carlos Patrick, Brian Sauls, Wesley Johnson, Mark McPherson, David Stokes, Willie Brown, Dylan Veal, Boone Hester; SOFTBALL — Stephanie Bradshaw, Toby Halligan, Pam Still; GIRLS' BASKETBALL — Yolanda Albritton, Angela Williams, Angela Hill, Karen Thomas, Debra Collins, Lisa Freeman, Wanda Burns; BOYS' BASKETBALL — Earl Wise, Eric Jackson, Tony Hall, Reuben Brown, Maurice Williams, Aubry Boyd, Eric Manuel, Chucky Balcom; TENNIS — Darrel Moye, Heloise Belarmino; WRESTLING — James Marshall, James Rushin, Eric London; GOLF — Jeff Moody.

“The Greatest Love of All” An Evening of Enchantment

It was said by many that the 1986 Junior-Senior Prom was one of the best ever. The band Poo Nanny did their job well and made the evening enjoyable. They involved the audience by holding a “Bad Mama Jama” contest in which six girls danced to the song on stage for audience applause. The winner was Cindy Caswell.

Beyond the genuine fun and excitement of the night, there was an air of elegance. Couples arrived at the prom in horse-drawn carriages and fancy limousines and then lined up to have pictures made while dressed in their very special formal attire.

Prior to the lead-out of the Junior, Senior, and Complex officers and their dates, Kim Stuart, President of the Junior Class, welcomed the Seniors to an

Senior Festivities

The fact that they really had reached the exalted status of Seniors and that they were going to graduate became a reality for the Class of '86 during the whirl of activities during Senior Week.

The activities began on Monday as seniors attended a movie. Instead of the usual walk to the theater, they rode school buses to the Macon Mall Quad Cinemas. Willingham B sponsored a luncheon at which time seniors enjoyed an excellent meal.

Seniors were treated to a skit by Complex Council, learned to wear their caps and gowns correctly, and practiced for the big event of the week — Honors Day which was held on Friday.

The Luncheon at the Coliseum provided the soon-to-be graduates an opportunity to relax after the Honors Day Program. The Senior Dance that night gave seniors one more chance to enjoy each others company.

City Champs — Again

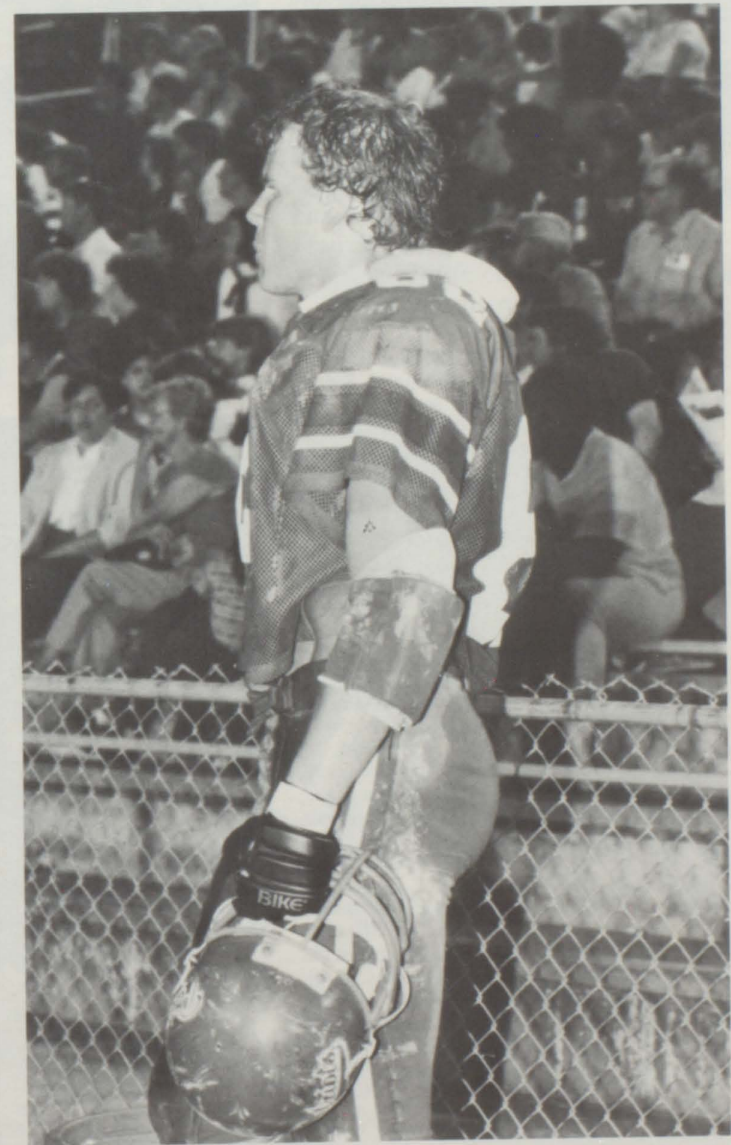

The Southwest Varsity Football Team, under the direction of Coach Edgar Hatcher, churned out another phenomenal season. The Patriots finished the year with a 7-4 record and captured the city championship and made the region playoffs. The team's offense enjoyed a rewarding year despite the lack of experience in the backfield. They had seven games in which 200 total yards were gained, with four of the seven games netting over 250 yards. In contrast, the defense had many returning starters, and this experience showed in their tremendous play. The squad recorded four shutouts and held three other teams to seven points or less.

Collectively, the team gained 233 yards and scored 22 points per game compared to their opponents 186 yards and 14 points. One big worry on the minds of the coaching staff during the pre-season was an apparent lack of depth in many positions. Due to the fact that there were no serious injuries this problem did not have to be faced. The Pats achieved tremendous success with high hopes for next year's team.

Pats Great Talent

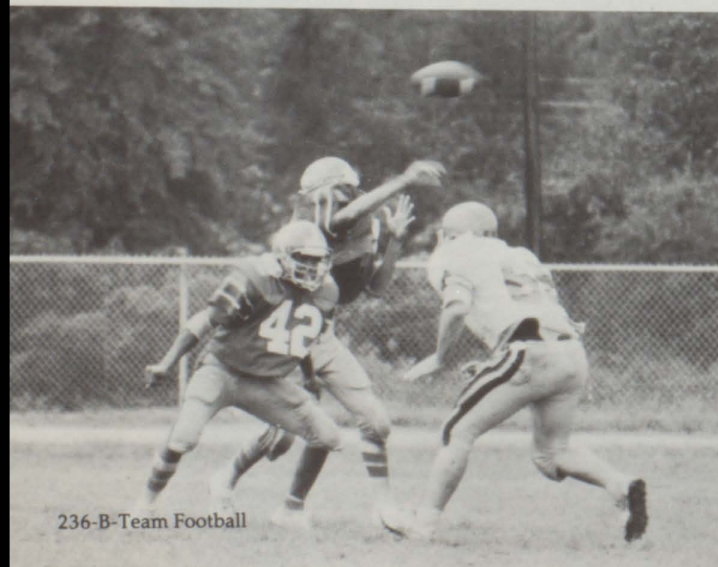

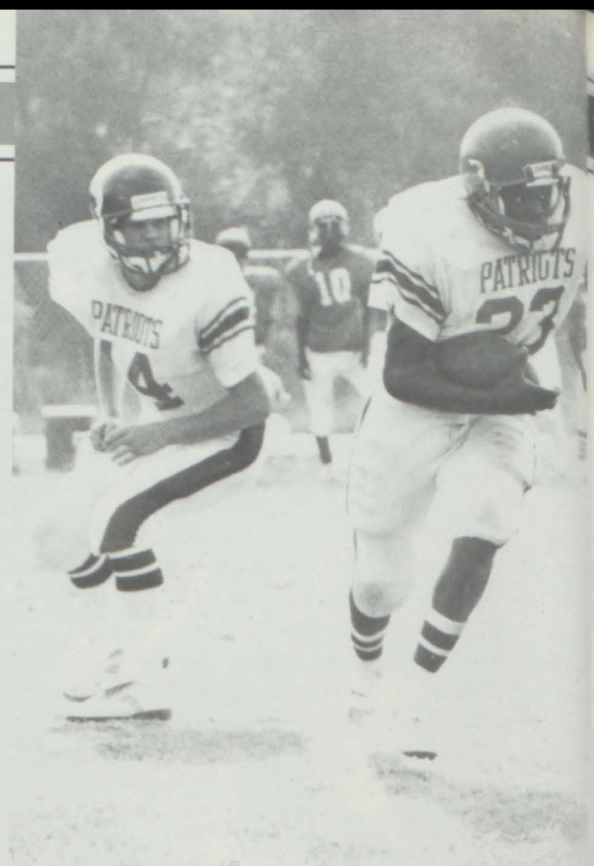

Southwest was fortunate to have many fine players who turned in outstanding seasons. The offense recorded a successful season with the spotlight on running back Rico Whipple. He gained 1,753 total yards making him to become the region's leading rusher. It would not have been possible for Rico to accomplish this if it were not for offensive linemen like Anthony Kelly and Chris Simmons. Place-kicker Walt Massey was perfect on 27 of 30 extra point attempts and had three field goals.

Five players accounted for a total of 255 tackles, 204 assists and ten caused fumbles. These hard hitting players were Milton Cuyler, Ernest Henderson, DeWayne Jones, Freddie Hand, and Rudolph Pennimon. Milton led the defense with six interceptions. DeWayne sacked the quarterback nine times and recovered three fumbles. Freddie recovered three fumbles and deflected three passes. Ernest recovered seven fumbles and Rudolph had two interceptions.

Great Expectations for the Future

The 1985-86 B-Team Football Squad finished the season with a record of 2 wins and 3 losses. Although this record might indicate it wasn't a particularly successful year, it most certainly proved to be a year of learning. This group of talented young men, supervised by Coach Clyde Barden and Coach Albert Sharpe, turned in a very impressive year. Outstanding players for the B-Team were Felix Parham, Tony Walker, and David Stokes on defense, and Prentice Wilson, Wallace Herring, and Calvin Hendley offensively. There is little doubt that these players will flourish in the years to come, and continue the winning tradition as they move up to the Varsity Team.

The Ninth Grade Football Team was guided by Coach Robert Hudson and Coach Willie Goolsby. There were many outstanding players on this team as well, including Jeff Langley, Maurice Davis, and Darren Willis. This young group of players finished the year with an excellent record of 6 wins and only 2 losses. This record very well may prove to be an indication that these players, after a year on the B-Team Squad, will give Southwest another successful season on the Varsity Team.

BASKETBALL

Young Team Works Hard

The Southwest Lady Patriots showed that basketball excellence is not limited to males, as they compiled a fantastic record of 18-4. The team won the City Championship and made it to the quarterfinal round of the playoffs.

Throughout the year, the team was led by the best all-around performer, Angela Hill. Two other outstanding performers were the team's leading scorer, Wanda Burns, and the leading rebounder, Karen Thomas. Great seasons were turned in by many other players such as Kim Wright, Debra Collins, Lisa Freeman, and Stephanie Walker. Coach Albert Sharpe said that this team was a group of dedicated kids who gave 110% of themselves every game.

Lady Pats

The fantastic season achieved by the Lady Patriots was not the only reward these ladies gained for all their hard work and dedication. Angela Hill was named to the Macon Telegraph and News All Middle Georgia Girls' Basketball Team as well as the All City Girls' Basketball Team with Wanda Burns. In addition, Coach Albert Sharpe was named City Coach of the Year by The Macon Telegraph and News. With both the coach and the players being recognized for outstanding work, it shows that the team is no fluke. These honors show that Southwest has all the right people to establish a tradition.

Great Future!

This year's great season by the Girls' Basketball Team may have been no one-time event. A great season may become a trademark of these Lady Patriots, as the team is loaded with young talent. The team only had one starting Senior, which means that the other four starters will be back for another year. The bench will also be strong with young players. Coach Albert Sharpe expects great things out of this team in the future. He commented that they were easy to coach because each player had a great attitude. He also said that they all had a burning desire to win and that he hopes it will carry over to next year. His goal — to win the State Championship next year.

Super Team!

The tradition of basketball excellence continued at Southwest during the 1985-86 season. The Southwest Varsity captured the Region Championship, finished 3rd in the State, and compiled a record of 26-4. In their opening game against the Washington Bulldogs, Southwest walked away with an impressive 75-56 victory and high hopes for the coming year.

As the season progressed, Southwest downed opposing teams at a furious pace — losing only three games in the regular season. The 26 wins propelled them to the State Playoffs. Southwest lost the semi-final match to Wills by a score of 60-57.

Southwest players fight for a rebound.

Super Players

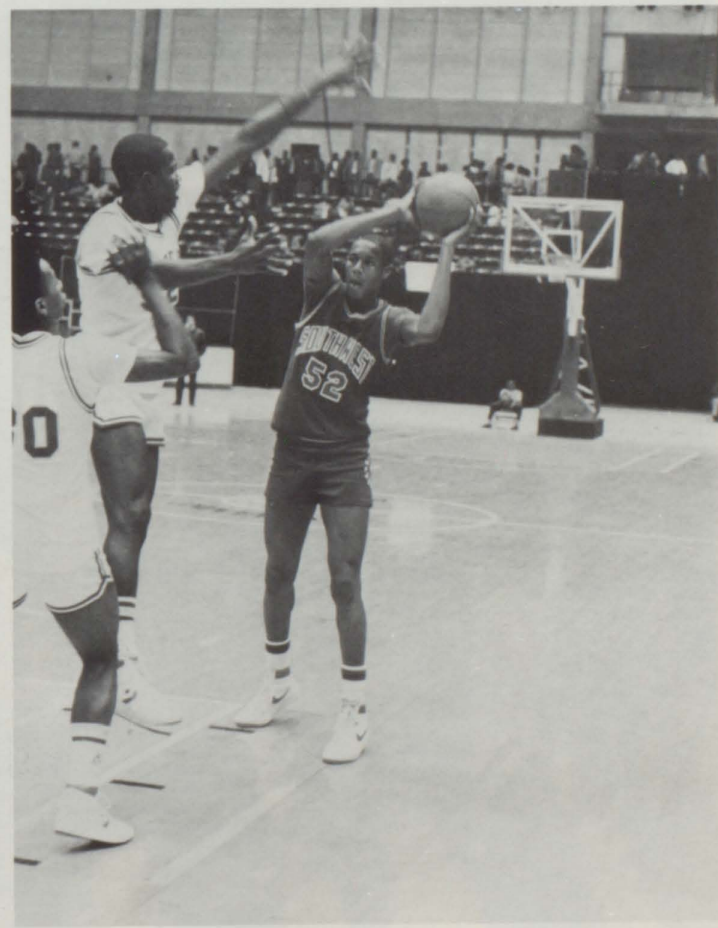

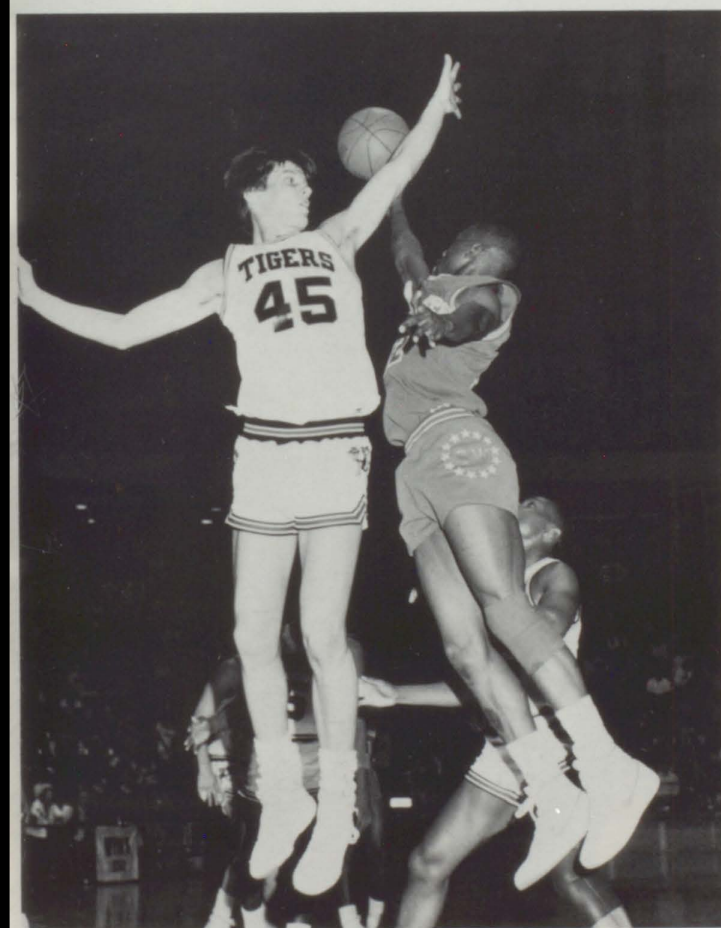

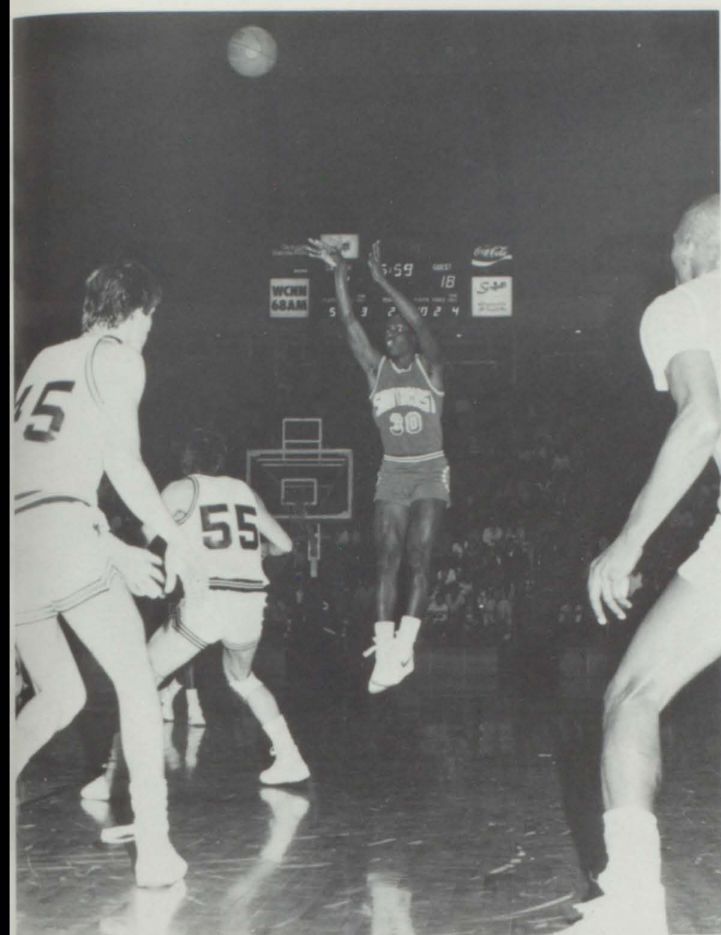

Southwest Coach Don Richardson said that he thought teamwork was one of the biggest factors contributing to the Patriots success in 1985-86. However, the team did have a number of individual performers that stood out.

Senior Earl Wise , a 6'6' forward, turned in a great year averaging 17 points and 10 rebounds a game. He started the year off by scoring 35 points against Washington. Earl was named a high school All-American and selected to the All Middle Georgia and All-City basketball team. Earl signed a scholarship with Tennessee Tech.

Another stand-out for the Patriots was 6'6' Junior forward Eric Manuel . He was selected a Parade All-American and was on the All Middle Georgia Team.

And Super Coaches!

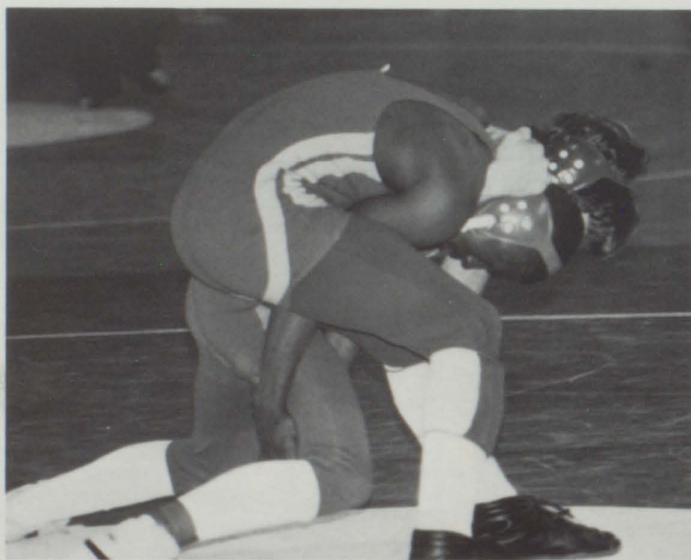

There are certain people who are responsible for Southwest's phenomenal basketball teams. These people show up for every practice, every game, and most certainly are the hardest workers on the entire team. Of course, the people being described are the dedicated coaches — Head Coach Don Richardson and Assistant Coaches Robert Hudson and Clyde Barden.

The fantastic coaching of Don Richardson is known throughout the country. It is he, along with his assistants, who have led and molded young men into the super players that have helped to establish the outstanding basketball program at Southwest. In Coach Richardson's twenty-nine years of coaching, he has amassed an incredible 517-83 record. He is certainly to be congratulated.

WRESTLING

Victorious

The Southwest Varsity Wrestling Team had a fantastic year, despite their misleading team record of 7-9. Both the team and individual wrestlers received numerous awards and honors. Under the direction of Coach Danny Grube, Southwest won the Area Wrestling Championship with 172 1/2 points. The Patriots were also crowned City Champions and placed third in the Hornet Classic.

Southwest was blessed with many great individual performers. Six individuals won the title of Area Champion. These wrestlers were Buford Mays, Calvin Hendley, James Rushin, Adolphus Glynn, James Marshall, and Darryl Franklin. The combined record of these six team members was 96-40-1.

SOFTBALL

City Champs

The 1985 Girls' Softball Team was just as impressive as in years past, yet there was one unique difference. Though they did win the city championship, they did not have the senior guidance that they have had previously. Heather Davison was the only senior on this outstanding team composed mostly of sophomores.

Under the guidance of Coach David Carey, the team worked together by capitalizing on their individual talents to produce an excellent season.

BASEBALL

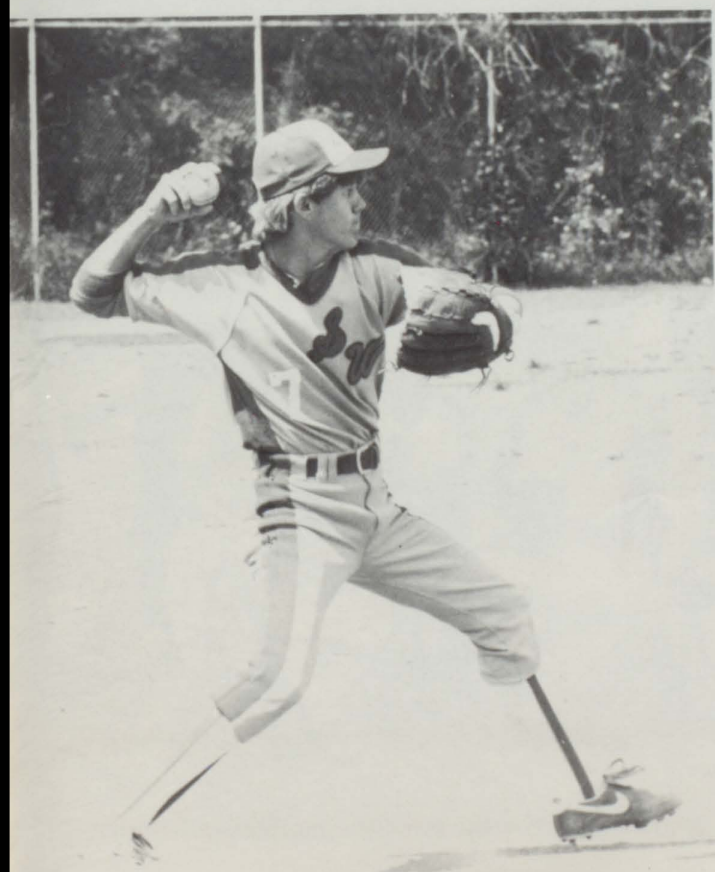

The Champs

Enough cannot be said about the Southwest Baseball Team as they shone throughout the whole 1986 season. The team demolished opponents throughout the year, racking up a regular season record of 19-2. They finished the year with an outstanding 22-5 record. The team started the year by placing first in the Lem Clark Tournament. Later in the year they captured the Sub-Region Championship as well. It was then, in Coach Ashley's opinion, they played the best baseball games of the year. The Patriots beat Evans of Augusta in two straight games to win the best of three series and the Region Championship.

Coach Ashley thought that one reason for the remarkable success was that the team always wanted to play and never gave up. The players showed more character, in his opinion, than any team he had seen in a long time.

Fine Players

The Varsity Baseball Team was led by many fine young players. Senior Milton Cuyler was the team's MVP with an incredible average of .631, 10 home runs, 44 RBIs, 8 doubles, 5 triples, and 20 stolen bases. He was later drafted by the Detroit Tigers. Greg McKinney batted .412 with 24 RBIs and led the team in doubles with 10. Dylan Veal also lended support with a .398 average, 8 home runs, and 42 RBIs. The pitchers did exceptionally well also. Wesley Johnson went 7-1, Wendell Atkins, 6-1, and Mark McPherson, 6-1. This great pitching rounded out a phenomenal team with a great season behind them.

SW Dynasty

The incredible season enjoyed by the Southwest Baseball Team may become an annual event. The two varsity-supporting teams both had unbelievable seasons. Coach Clyde Barden led his B-Team players to a 7-1 year; Coach Robert Hudson helped the Ninth Grade Team to compile an 8-1 record. If these players continue to succeed and perform as they have, record baseball seasons will be a yearly event.

Team With Fleet Feet

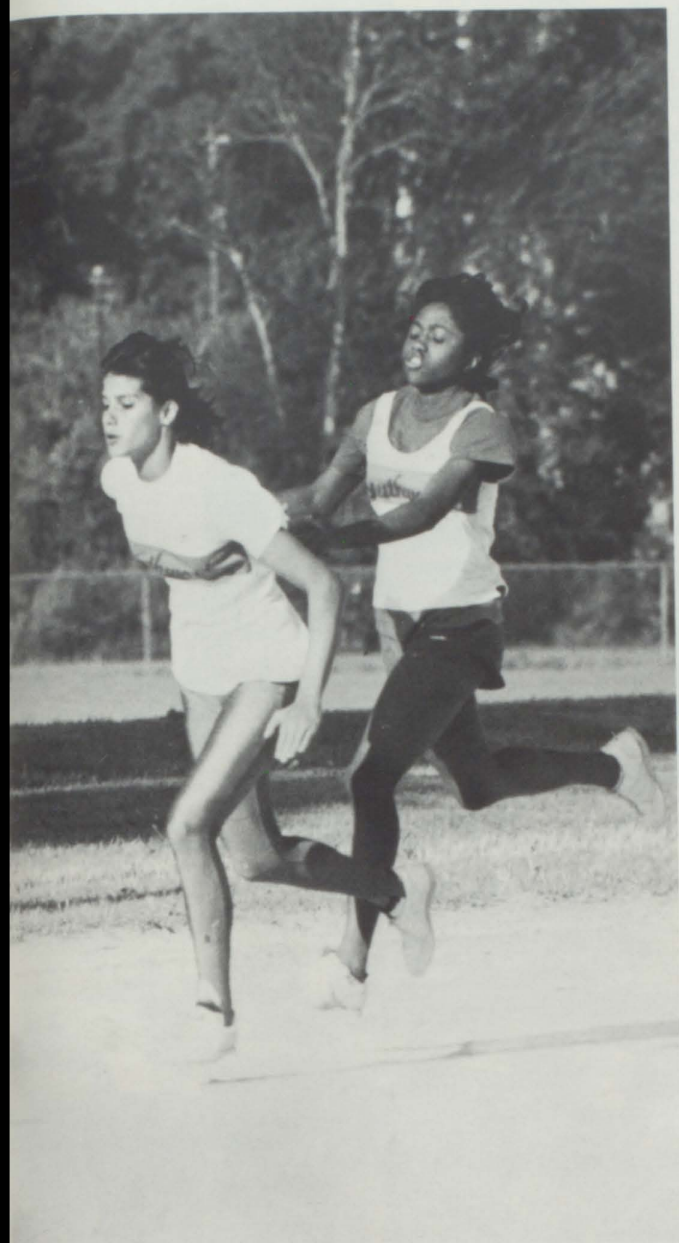

Once again the Girls' Varsity Track Team faced a grueling season with the speed and agility one would expect from a Lady Patriot. Encouraged by Coaches Jimmy Hammond and Joe Brooks to start individual practice early in the summer before team practice began in the fall, these energetic young ladies worked hard to prepare themselves for the upcoming track season.

These voluntary workouts showed great determination and proved to be of benefit as the Lady Pats finished second in the City, third in the Sub-Region, and fourth in the Region.

Individual standouts on the 1986 team were Kathy Torres in the long jump and the mile run, Kim Wright in the 880, and Karen Thomas in the shot put and discus.

Those Red-Hot Patriots

The 1985-86 edition of the Southwest Track Team proved to be, as in many years before, a team with which to be reckoned. This team of outstanding young men finished the year with a very impressive record of seven wins and only one loss. The team participated in many meets and won numerous awards. A first place finish in the Optimist Relays in Augusta, a second place finish in the Sub-Region, and an overall fifth place finish in the State were just a few of this team's well-deserved awards.

As in most of the other sports at Southwest, the Boys' Track Team had its share of record-setting achievements and outstanding moments. The Boys' 440 Relay Team had a great number of these moments. The most outstanding one of them was when they broke the school's previous 440 Relay record with a time of 42.6 seconds. In the State Championships they displayed their talents well and won many awards. In the 440 Relay, Antonio Pettigrew came out on top. The Mile Relay Team continued their winning ways this year by beating every opponent they encounter, and capturing the State AAAA Mile Relay Title. This outstanding group of young men consisted of Antonio Pettigrew, Richard Germany, Sidney Holston, and Reginald Wilson.

TENNIS

Tennis Aces

The 1985-86 Southwest Tennis Team, although not having an outstanding record, acquired valuable experience and on-court respect from other schools. The team was led by Senior Darrel Moye and Sophomore Darryl Davis. These players used their talent and ability to set examples of good playing for the rest of the team. Although their 4-6 record is certainly nothing to be ashamed of, they plan to work diligently to have a better season next year.

CHEERLEADERS

That Spirit!

The Varsity Cheerleaders are young ladies who do their utmost to help the football and basketball teams become successful. During the summer, the girls and their advisor, Eleanor Taylor, attended cheerleading camp at the University of Georgia. After returning, they practiced daily for the remainder of their vacation. During football season they cheered the team on at every game, and also adopted a player as their "secret pal". When basketball season arrived, the cheerleaders were present at every game, to cheer the Patriots on to another successful season. The many hours of hard work exerted by the group definitely paid off for them, as they shared in the happiness of the many Southwest victories.

Plans for the Future

The B-Team and Ninth Grade Cheerleaders may not have been in the spotlight all the time but they supported our school and did a terrific job of encouraging and boosting the morale of the players on the B — Team and Ninth Grade Teams.

The members of these squads were all hard-working and energetic young ladies. They started practice early in the summer and continued practicing diligently each day after school throughout the football and basketball seasons.

The coaches for these squads played an important part in their organization and performance. The B-Team was coached by Eleanor Taylor while Janice Childers led the Ninth Grade squad. These coaches worked hard with these young ladies in hope of preparing future cheerleaders for the Varsity Cheerleading squad.

Honors

Underclassmen Honored

It was a night of reward and acclaim as the underclassmen of Southwest gathered to receive their awards for excellence earned during the 1985-86 school year. Awards were presented to recognize students in all phases of school life.

Publication awards were presented first. The Southwest Annual Staff announced that Terry Ledford and Patrick Railey would be the editors of the Spirit of '87. The 1987 editors for the Patri-Article will be Andy Busbee and Robert Harmon. Montage editor will be Meredith Ketchum.

Awards were presented to those students who excelled in math contests and tournaments, as well as those who performed in science competitions. Students were also awarded for their honors and accomplishments in literary events. Eric Crafter, Tavis Jones, Ursula Lane, and Ingrid Reeves were recognized as Presbyterian College Junior Fellows and recipients of Certificates of Merit.

The Hugh O'Brien Award was received by Lee Childers, a sophomore who represented Southwest at a leadership conference. Kim Stuart received the "I Dare You Award" for demonstrating unique leadership ability in the Junior Class.

Piggly Wiggly Leadership Awards were presented to members of Student Council, while Prom Committee members received Piggly Wiggly Service Awards. Junior Guides, Peer Counselors, students with perfect attendance, and Honor Roll students were noted for their accomplishments. Those who worked even more diligently were recognized by being named to the Principal's List.

The Honors Continue

In addition to the awards presented on Honor's Night, many students were recognized for their accomplishments in specific activities during the year. These students were introduced to many valuable experiences through their participation.

Winners in the DECA competition were Pam Reynolds, Tremayne Snow, Melissa Houchin, and Michelle Jarrett. All State Chorus participants were Richard Hunt and Arlene Greene. Participants in All State Band were Laura Puckett and Sissy Busbee. Southwest excelled in many literary events with the following winners: Amanda Pecor, Stephanie Scott, Laura Puckett, Alicia Jaskula, Nat Webb, Teri Farless, Cynthia Lloyd, and Steve Bailey.

Southwest's Governor's Honors nominees were Eric Crafter, Kim Stuart, Charles Pecor, Tavis Jones, Terry Ledford, Patrick Railey, Dylan Veal, and John Crews. The Governor's Honors participants from Southwest were Patrick Railey, Tavis Jones, Dylan Veal, Kim Stuart, and John Crews. Representatives to Boys' and Girls' State were Terry Ledford, Eric Crafter, Kim Stuart, and Carla Middleton.

Senior Honors Day

Senior Honors Day was held on May 23. Seniors were transported to their honor program at the City Auditorium on a special fleet of school buses. All attending the program shared in the pride and thrill of accomplishment felt by the graduates. Afterwards, the class was taken to a special Senior Luncheon where they enjoyed performances by the Jazz Band and their Student Council members. The enthused graduates returned to school near the end of the day where they anticipated the pleasure of the Senior Dance that night at the Coliseum.

Deserving Scholars

"The 1986 Senior Class was an exceptional one. This class had more high SAT scores and was awarded more scholarships than any class in Southwest's history." Various awards from outside organizations were presented at the Honors Day program. The Macon Junior College Alumni Association first awarded Nikki Brannon with the Aaron Hyatt Award, a one year scholarship. The Macon Junior College High Achievement Foundation Scholars were announced as Michelle Binford, Ace Cranford, and Caroline Ford, all of whom will receive full tuition for one year. The American Legion Medal was presented by the Joseph N. Neel Post III to honor Lenzy Reid for courage, honor, and service. Regina Davis received an award by the Baptist Ministers' Union for academic achievement and Christian service. Laura Ashcraft and Caroline Ford were awarded scholarships by the Bibb Association of Office Personnel toward a business educated career. The John Killen Award was also given to Caroline Ford. Charles Taylor received a $1000 scholarship from a chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity for his characteristics of manhood and perseverance. Don Harris was awarded a scholarship from Alpha Phi Alpha. The Scholar-Athlete Awards were presented to Heather Davis and Chris Simmons for their excellent academic and athletic abilities. Paula Jenkins received a presidential scholarship from Mercer University, and Annette Snyder was awarded the Jesse Mercer Scholarship. Melanie Robinson, Michelle Jackson, Ronnie Lowe and Gretchen Washington were recognized with awards by the Health Department for their years of service as Teen Community Representatives.

Seniors Honored

The Southwest PTSA Award recipients, voted on by teachers, were Caroline Ford and Regina Davis. They received scholarships to the colleges of their choice. The Beta Club presented honor cords to Seniors for their achievement and service. The Tim Stinson Memorial Scholarship, also presented by the Beta Club, was awarded to Nancy Beck for exemplifying the characteristics and qualities of a student such as Tim. National Merit Scholarships, which are based on excellent SAT scores were awarded to Amanda Pecor, Paula Jenkins, and Annette Snyder. Chris Hall was recognized for his performance and belief in the future by receiving the National Achievement Scholarship for Outstanding Black Students. Amanda Pecor and Greg Miller were recognized as students who achieved in English and Mathematics. Amanda was recognized for her English excellence, while Greg was recognized for his outstanding mathematical ability. Thirty-four of the Southwest graduates received the prestigious Presidential Academic Fitness Award. The Georgia Scholar Award is the highest award given by the state of Georgia. It honors students for excellence in all phases of school life. The recipient this year was Laura Puckett. Senior Student Council members and class officers were presented leadership awards. Arlene Greene was recognized for 4 years of perfect attendance and Wanda Rice received recognition for 12 years of perfect attendance. Numerous other students in the 1986 class were awarded scholarships, and all were recognized at one special time during the honors program.

Outstanding Seniors

Outstanding Seniors of the Academic Bowl Team were recognized as Amanda Pecor, Kelvin Thomas, and Ronnie Lowe. Amy Lynch was recognized for her devoted and excellent work in Foreign Relations. Karen Evans was honored by the Intern Program. Paula Jenkins was presented the Science Leadership Trophy by the Science Club for her ability in Science Bowl Competitions. Nikki Brannon, Chris Glass, Chris Hall, Jack Hubbard, Ronnie Lowe, Greg Miller, Christy Pilkey, and Annette Snyder were awarded certificates for outstanding performance on the Math Team. Greg Miller and Ronnie Fain were presented computed awards for their excellence. Ronnie Fain was also the Magnet Cluster Student of the Year. Lenzy Reid received the American Legion Good Citizenship Award. Amanda Pecor and Paula Jenkins were the highest ranking Seniors, with Amanda Pecor being named the Star Student. The prestigious Principal's Award was presented to Deanna Hill.

Members of the 1986 class had, of course, worked diligently for the many awards and scholarships presented at Senior Honors Day. Devoting twelve years to learning and preparing for those awards, they ranked remarkably well with students from all over the state and other states.

-Golden Eagle Awards

A Lustrous Reputation

Members of the Class of 1986 added luster to Southwest's reputation in the community and in the state. Again this school year the Bibb County and Eighth Congressional District Star Student was a member of the Southwest student body. Amanda Pecor achieved this honor, and was also named first speaker at the graduation exercises as a result of her attaining the highest academic average in the Senior class. Her score of 1520 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test ranked right above those of the runners-up: Chris Hall and Paula Jenkins, respectively. Golden Eagles were again brought home to Southwest by members of the Senior Class. This prestigious awards competition is sponsored annually by the Macon Telegraph and News. Nominees who represented Southwest were the following: Dana Williams, Art; Lori Minter, Citizenship; Melissa Wellborn, Drama; Amanda Pecor, English; Deanna Barnes, Foreign Language; Deanna Hill, Industrial Vocational; Greg Miller, Mathematics; Laura Puckett, Music; Paula Jenkins, Science; Regina Davis, Social Science; and Annette Snyder, Journalism.

The ceremonies, traditionally held at the Grand Opera House, were exciting for participants and observers alike. Astronaut Ed Gibson, the keynote speaker for the evening, encouraged the nominees to dream and to act boldly even when the chances for success might seem slim. Annette Snyder and Deanna Barnes received Honorable Mention Awards in Journalism and Foreign Language respectively. Regina Davis and Amanda Pecor both received Golden Eagles in their respective fields. Each Golden Eagle winner received a trophy and $500. The runners-up received a plaque and $100.

Pomp and Circumstance

The 1986 graduation ceremony of Southwest High was held on June 11, at 8:15 p.m. Excited and emotional graduates filled the Coliseum beginning in the early evening. The atmosphere was an air of enthusiastic excitement, pride, and accomplishment. Faces of the '86 graduates revealed a sad expression of departure, but an even greater expression of the thrill of embarking on a great journey into the future.

Lining the halls of the Coliseum, graduates eagerly awaited their walk in the dignified procession. A unique sense of fulfillment permeated the air as the 1986 graduates began their march.

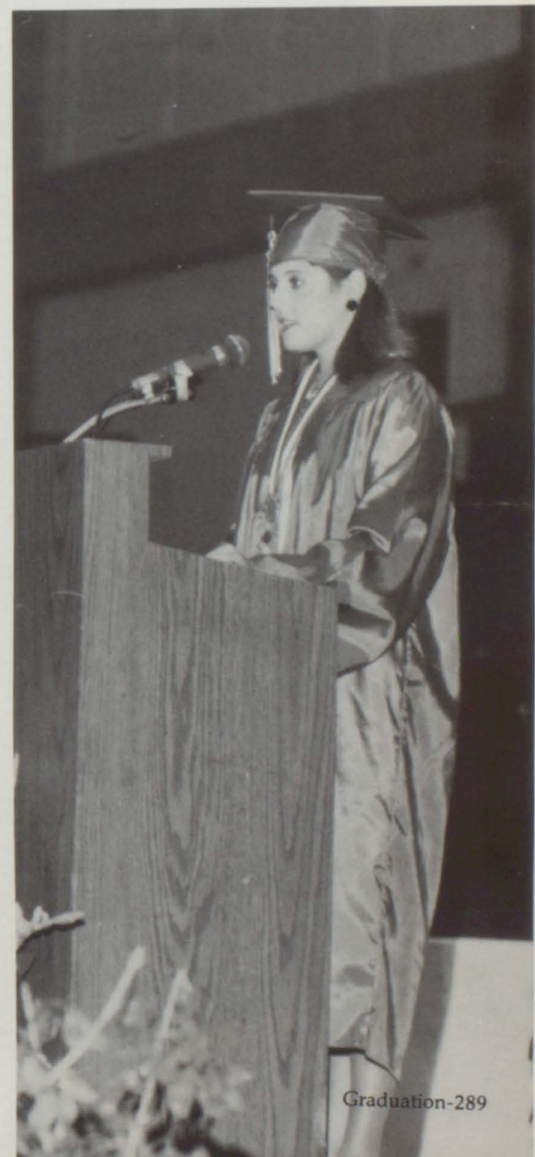

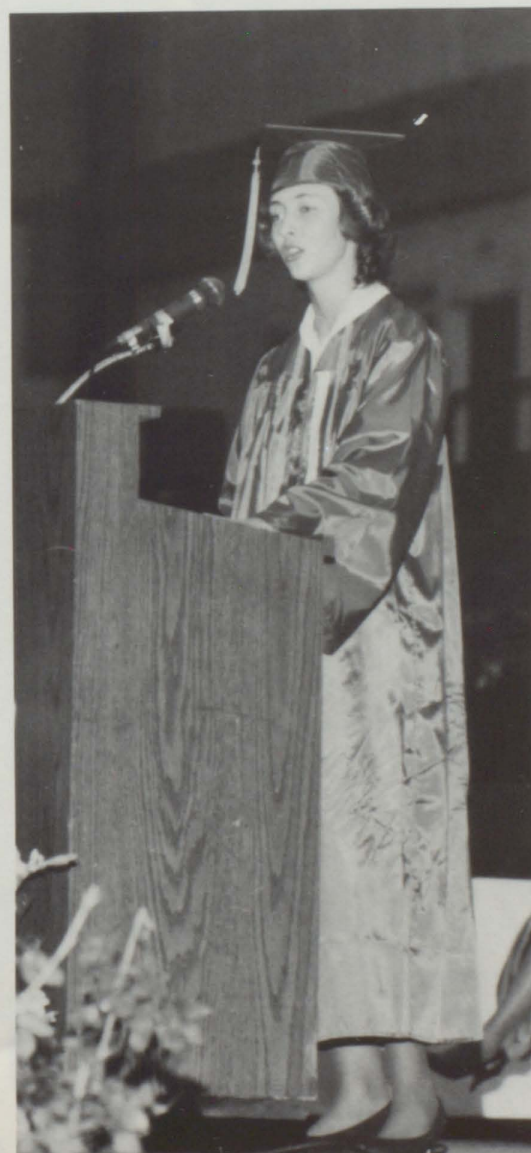

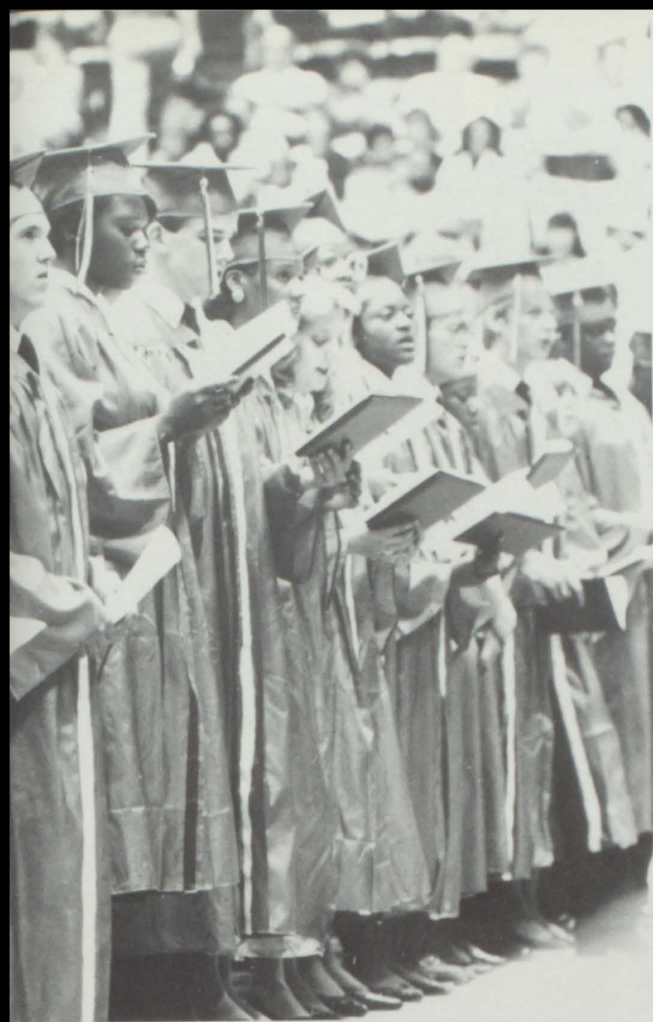

Addressing the graduates were first speaker, Amanda Pecor; second speaker, Paula Jenkins; and third speaker, Deanna Hill. The valedictorian, Amanda Pecor earned a grade point average of 4.86 which was the highest average of the 1986 class. She spoke of the future as a special change as that of the changing of seasons. She stated, "we are at the end of the beginning and the dawn is just behind us." The salutatorian, Paula Jenkins, had the second highest grade point average of 4.84. She spoke of the future as theirs, declaring that a man's reach must surpass his grasp. The senior speaker, Deanna Hill, acknowledged that their past wisdom and insight would enlighten the future for them and that neither time nor distance would ever change the special memories they shared.

The graduates proclaimed their goal for the future by singing, Climb Every Mountain. Their emotion was felt by all.

Moments of Unity

Graduation was an extraordinarily special event. For most it was the last time to be together and share some crazy, but happy moments. All were aglow at the 1986 graduation ceremony, exchanging hugs and enjoying the excitement of the unity and closeness.

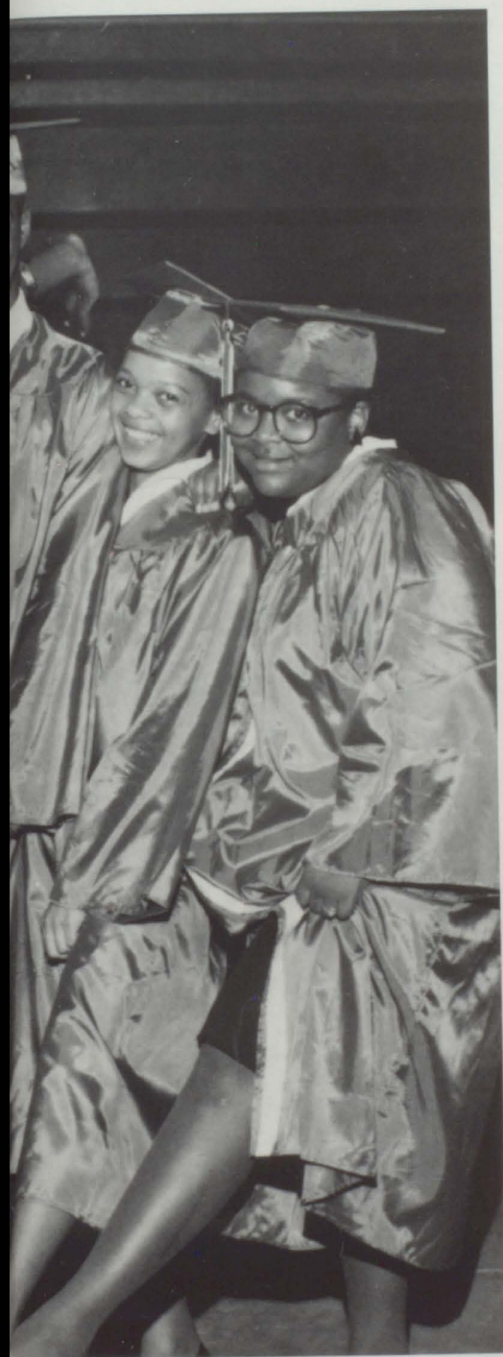

Although they were departing and entering their own paths of life, the graduates celebrated with joy and love their final moments of togetherness.

Giddiness Reigns

Nothing can describe the types of emotions felt by the graduates during their moments in the spotlight on the night of graduation. Expressions revealed the variety of emotions felt by the graduates. Tears of joy and sadness were shed, last minute hugs were exchanged, and final seconds were spent together with close friends. It was the happiest of days.

Radical!!

The Southwest Math Team has the reputation of being one of the highest-rated teams in the state. These mathematical whizzes embarked on a year filled with success and valuable knowledge. The members travelled extensively in order to participate in numerous competitions, rising as early as 4:00 a.m. on Saturdays to travel to Atlanta, Savannah, and as far away as South Carolina. This team consistently displayed their hard work and devotion and were called one of the best math teams Southwest has ever had.

A great deal of the credit and praise went to Senior Greg Miller. Greg placed first individually in competitions at Mercer University, Armstrong College, and Macon Junior College, fourth place individually at Georgia Southwestern College and Woodward Academy, and had numerous perfect scores at Bibb County Math Meets. Other members who had perfect scores were Chris Glass, Nikki Brannon, and Ronnie Lowe. On the Annual High School Mathematics Exam, a test given to all honors math students to show where they rank in mathematical ability, the top scorer of the school was again Greg Miller. The second highest score was made by Senior Christy Pilkey and the third highest scorer in the school was Sophomore Sissy Higingbotham. The team as a whole placed first at Armstrong, Macon Junior, Mercer, Bibb County, and was highest in the region on the Georgia League Test.

Studying the World

The Achille Lauro Hijacking, terrorism, unrest in South Africa, the war in Central America, the Geneva Summit between Reagan and Gorbachev, the revolution in the Philippines, the U.S. bombing of Libya, and the Chernobyl nuclear disaster made the 1986 school year a very interesting and enlightening one in Foreign Relations class at Southwest. The adage "no man is an island unto himself" could never have been made more evident than by these events which have literally transpired before our eyes.

The highlight of the year in Foreign Relations was attending the North American Invitational Model United Nations sponsored by Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. Southwest was one of only two schools in Georgia to be invited to participate in this prestigious event. Under the leadership of their teacher, Virginia Phillips, six students represented the Republic of Djibouti on the Economic and Social Council.

Winter quarter was spent in preparation for this activity by studying the various organs of the UN — their functions, and the political, social, and economic background of Djibouti. In January the class attended the Macon Junior College Model UN sponsored by the Macon Council of World Affairs. The ultimate purpose of these activities was to gain insight into the points of view of other nations. Probably the most valuable thing learned from this course is that the American point of view, and any other nation's for that matter, is not the only point of view and is not always the right one. The way one looks at things and the views one holds depends entirely on one's particular vantage point.

Knowledge & Victory

Among the many organizations which bring honor to Southwest is the very successful Academic Bowl Team, advised by Jim Barfield. Selection of team members was determined by competition based on ability to answer questions from many areas of knowledge. The first competition began in January with the Southwest Team consistently defeating Northeast and Central.

The Southwest Team reached the semi-finals at the Fort Valley State College Meet in March, and the quarterfinals at the Georgia Southwestern Meet in April.

The highlight of the year was having five members of the Southwest team to compete on the Bibb County Team at the National Competition in Jacksonville, Florida. Southwest students who participated were Amanda Pecor, Ronnie Lowe, Kelvin Thomas, John Crews, and Chuck Pecor.

The Science Bowl Team, under the leadership of James Hinson, is one of the most competitive organizations at Southwest. The team has participated throughout the state in many rigorous Science Competitions and always performed well.

During January, Bowl Team members attended West Laurens High School's Pre-Science Bowl Competition. Team One, consisting of Paula Jenkins, Amanda Pecor, and Charles Pecor placed second. Team members also attended a Regional Science Bowl Competition held at Tift College.

Science Bowl members also allow time out for serving their community. They work closely along with Science Club members to develop projects in order to better aid the community, one of them being a Science Olympiad they held in April.

Uniquely Southwest

The Southwest Debate team, under the leadership of Sherry Taylor, began its year early in the summer by participating in a Mercer University Workshop in Macon and a West Georgia College Debate Institute.

The team's first competition began at the Westminster Meet. The team members then participated in a Northside Meet placing fifth among affirmative teams. At the Carrollton Meet the team placed sixth among speakers and sixth among affirmative teams. In Gainesville the team placed first among negative teams and first among affirmative teams.

The Southwest Team also placed at the Woodward, Auburn, West Georgia, and Region Meets.

Images of 1985 — 1986

This was a year of joy and sorrow and of laughter and tears. The world wept at the tragic loss of the space shuttle and its seven astronauts, and rejoiced at the return of Halley's Comet after its 76 year absence.

The world joined hands as musicians united to perform in the biggest benefit in history. Live Aid, a concert to feed the starving in Africa, raised over 70.5 million dollars.

The restoration of the Statue of Liberty was made possible by the enthusiasm and spirit of patriotic U.S. citizens. Ninety-eight cities all over the United States participated in the Liberty Bike-A-Thon, one of the many benefits for this cause.

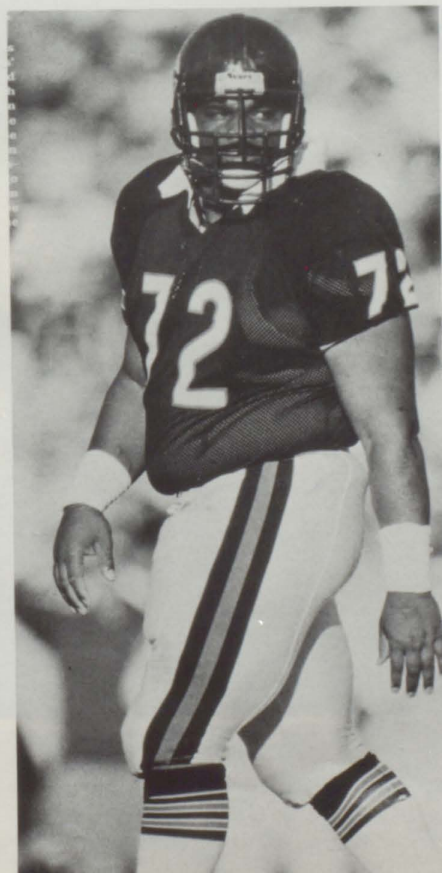

This year we witnessed recurring waves of terrorism, natural disasters, and military victories. Ferdinand Marcos was ousted from the Presidency of the Philippines by the supporters of Corazon Aquino, President Reagan and Soviet leader Gorbachev met for the first time at the Geneva Summit, and the tension between the United States and Libya mounted.

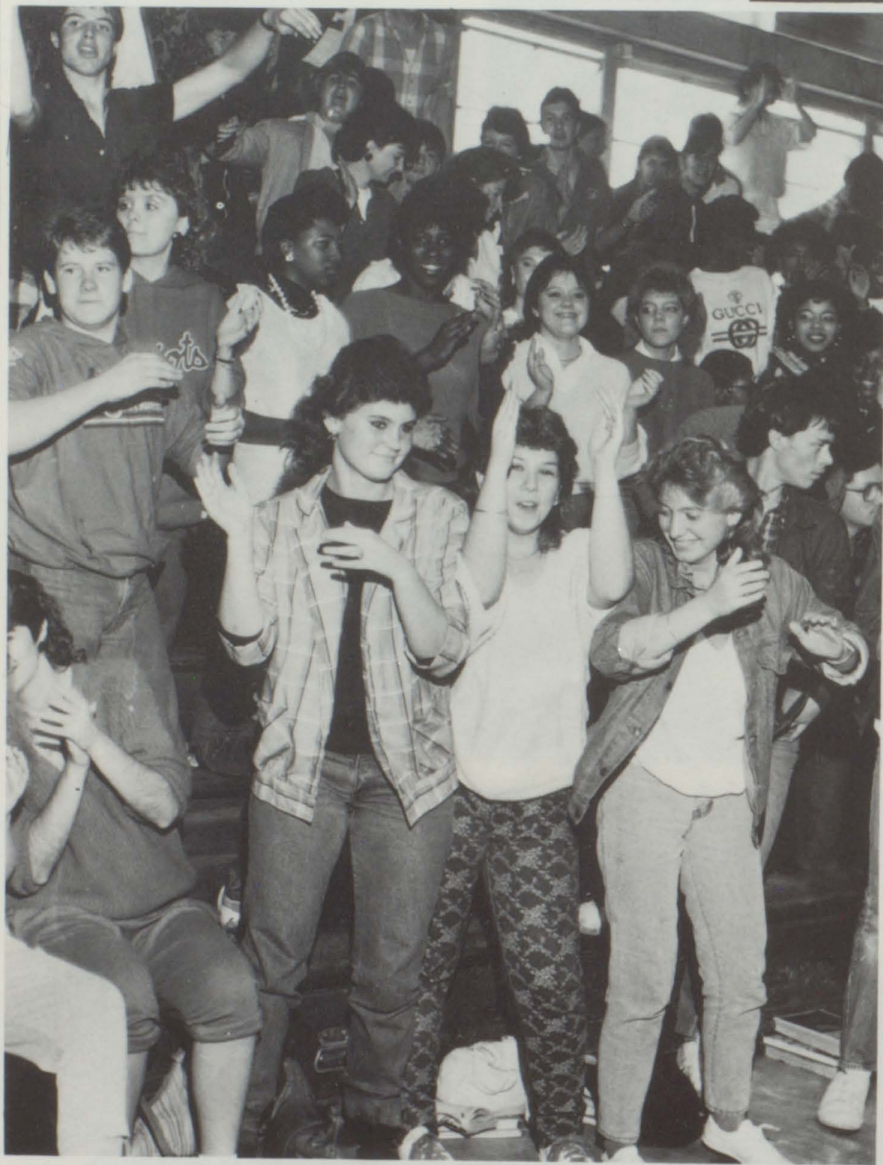

The Cosby Show remained America's number one TV series, Miami Vice picked up 15 Emmy nominations, and Rocky IV, the latest Sylvester Stallone hit, packed the theaters. Economical plastic watches called swatches, became the latest fad, along with Reebok tennis shoes, paisley prints, and Levi's 501 blues.

The world bid farewell to actor Rock Hudson, 13-year old peace advocate Samantha Smith, former New York Yankee home run king Roger Maris, and The King and I Oscar winning actor Yul Brynner.

The last bell sounds. A roar goes up. Seniors graduate. The halls are silent. Yet, the Spirit remains and continues to burn with an intensity that has become a hallmark of Southwest.

Annual Staff: Unique Individuals

The people chosen to be members of Annual Staff are unique individuals, but they share certain characteristics. They have a strong desire to be part of a project that reflects the spirit of their school and is appreciated by those around them. Staff members are creative and conscientious. The best among them demonstrate initiative, a capacity for hard work, and a love for their task. They are proud people who once having made a commitment, feel honor bound to complete it.

Dedication and hardwork are not only characteristics of annual staff members, but also of annual staff advisors. Without these two very special people, Ann Fugate and Diane Nix, and the many hours they spend working during and after school, it would be a nearly impossible task to complete the Southwest Annual.

To Whom It May Concern:

A message of appreciation is often difficult to compose when there are so many people who have been supportive of a project like that of producing the Spirit of '86. The temptation is to try to express gratitude to each individual who has been of assistance, but the danger inherent in that effort is that some individuals might not be mentioned. Still, the effort must be made.

Les Parsons of Taylor Publishing Company seems able to solve almost any problem from correcting defective computer shipment discs to refiguring budgets. Through it all - long distance phone calls and late night computer sessions - he manages to always display a positive attitude.

Larry Naylor has to be the consummate photographer and for this reason, it is always exciting to see his artistic creations. He and his cohorts at Southeastern Portraits are able to be creative and professional under the most trying of circumstances. He truly cares about Southwest and his help is invaluable.

The companies and individuals who support the annual through their purchasing of ads must be thanked, for it is due in part to their support that the book's cost remains as reasonable as it does.

The administrative staff - Gloria Washington, Harold Perdue, Anne Hadarits, and Gerald Stuart - make the production of the annual possible. We appreciate your support and goodwill.

Jackie Richardson and Esterine Stokes go beyond the call of duty by volunteering for tasks. Their help makes our work more pleasant.

Sincere thanks must be extended to the members of the faculty and student body who support the annual by purchasing it.

Sincerely,

Spirit of '86

A Year Of Special Spirit

When the staff and I chose "A Special Spirit" as the theme for the Spirit of '86, we had no idea how truly representative it would be of this school year at Southwest. At our school "S" and "W" have become more than just letters. They are representative of the spirit that is personified by all of those at Southwest.

This spirit actually seems to be inherent in all Southwest Patriots. Whether it is displayed at a sports arena, bonfire, or math meet it is present and evident to all of those in attendance. This spirit permeates the mighty patriots and instills a sense of pride and victory in every person on campus.

I shall always remember my year as editor of this yearbook. We stood united and fought to retain not only our name, but also our traditions. The list of our victories in sports and academics was as endless as the spirit displayed by all of those involved.

It was a memorable year and it is with pride that I show a bit of my Southwest spirit by presenting to you the product of a year's labor — the yearbook. It is my gift to all of those who caught and then displayed that special spirit. It is designed to honor those who showed pride in Southwest and those who made Southwest proud. My best wishes go with you, Seniors. I hope that this a yearbook of which you will be proud. I hope that it causes anyone who flips through the pages to remember the Spirit of '86 — A SPECIAL SPIRIT !

Terry Ledford

Crossing the Bar
Sunset and evening star, as
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea.

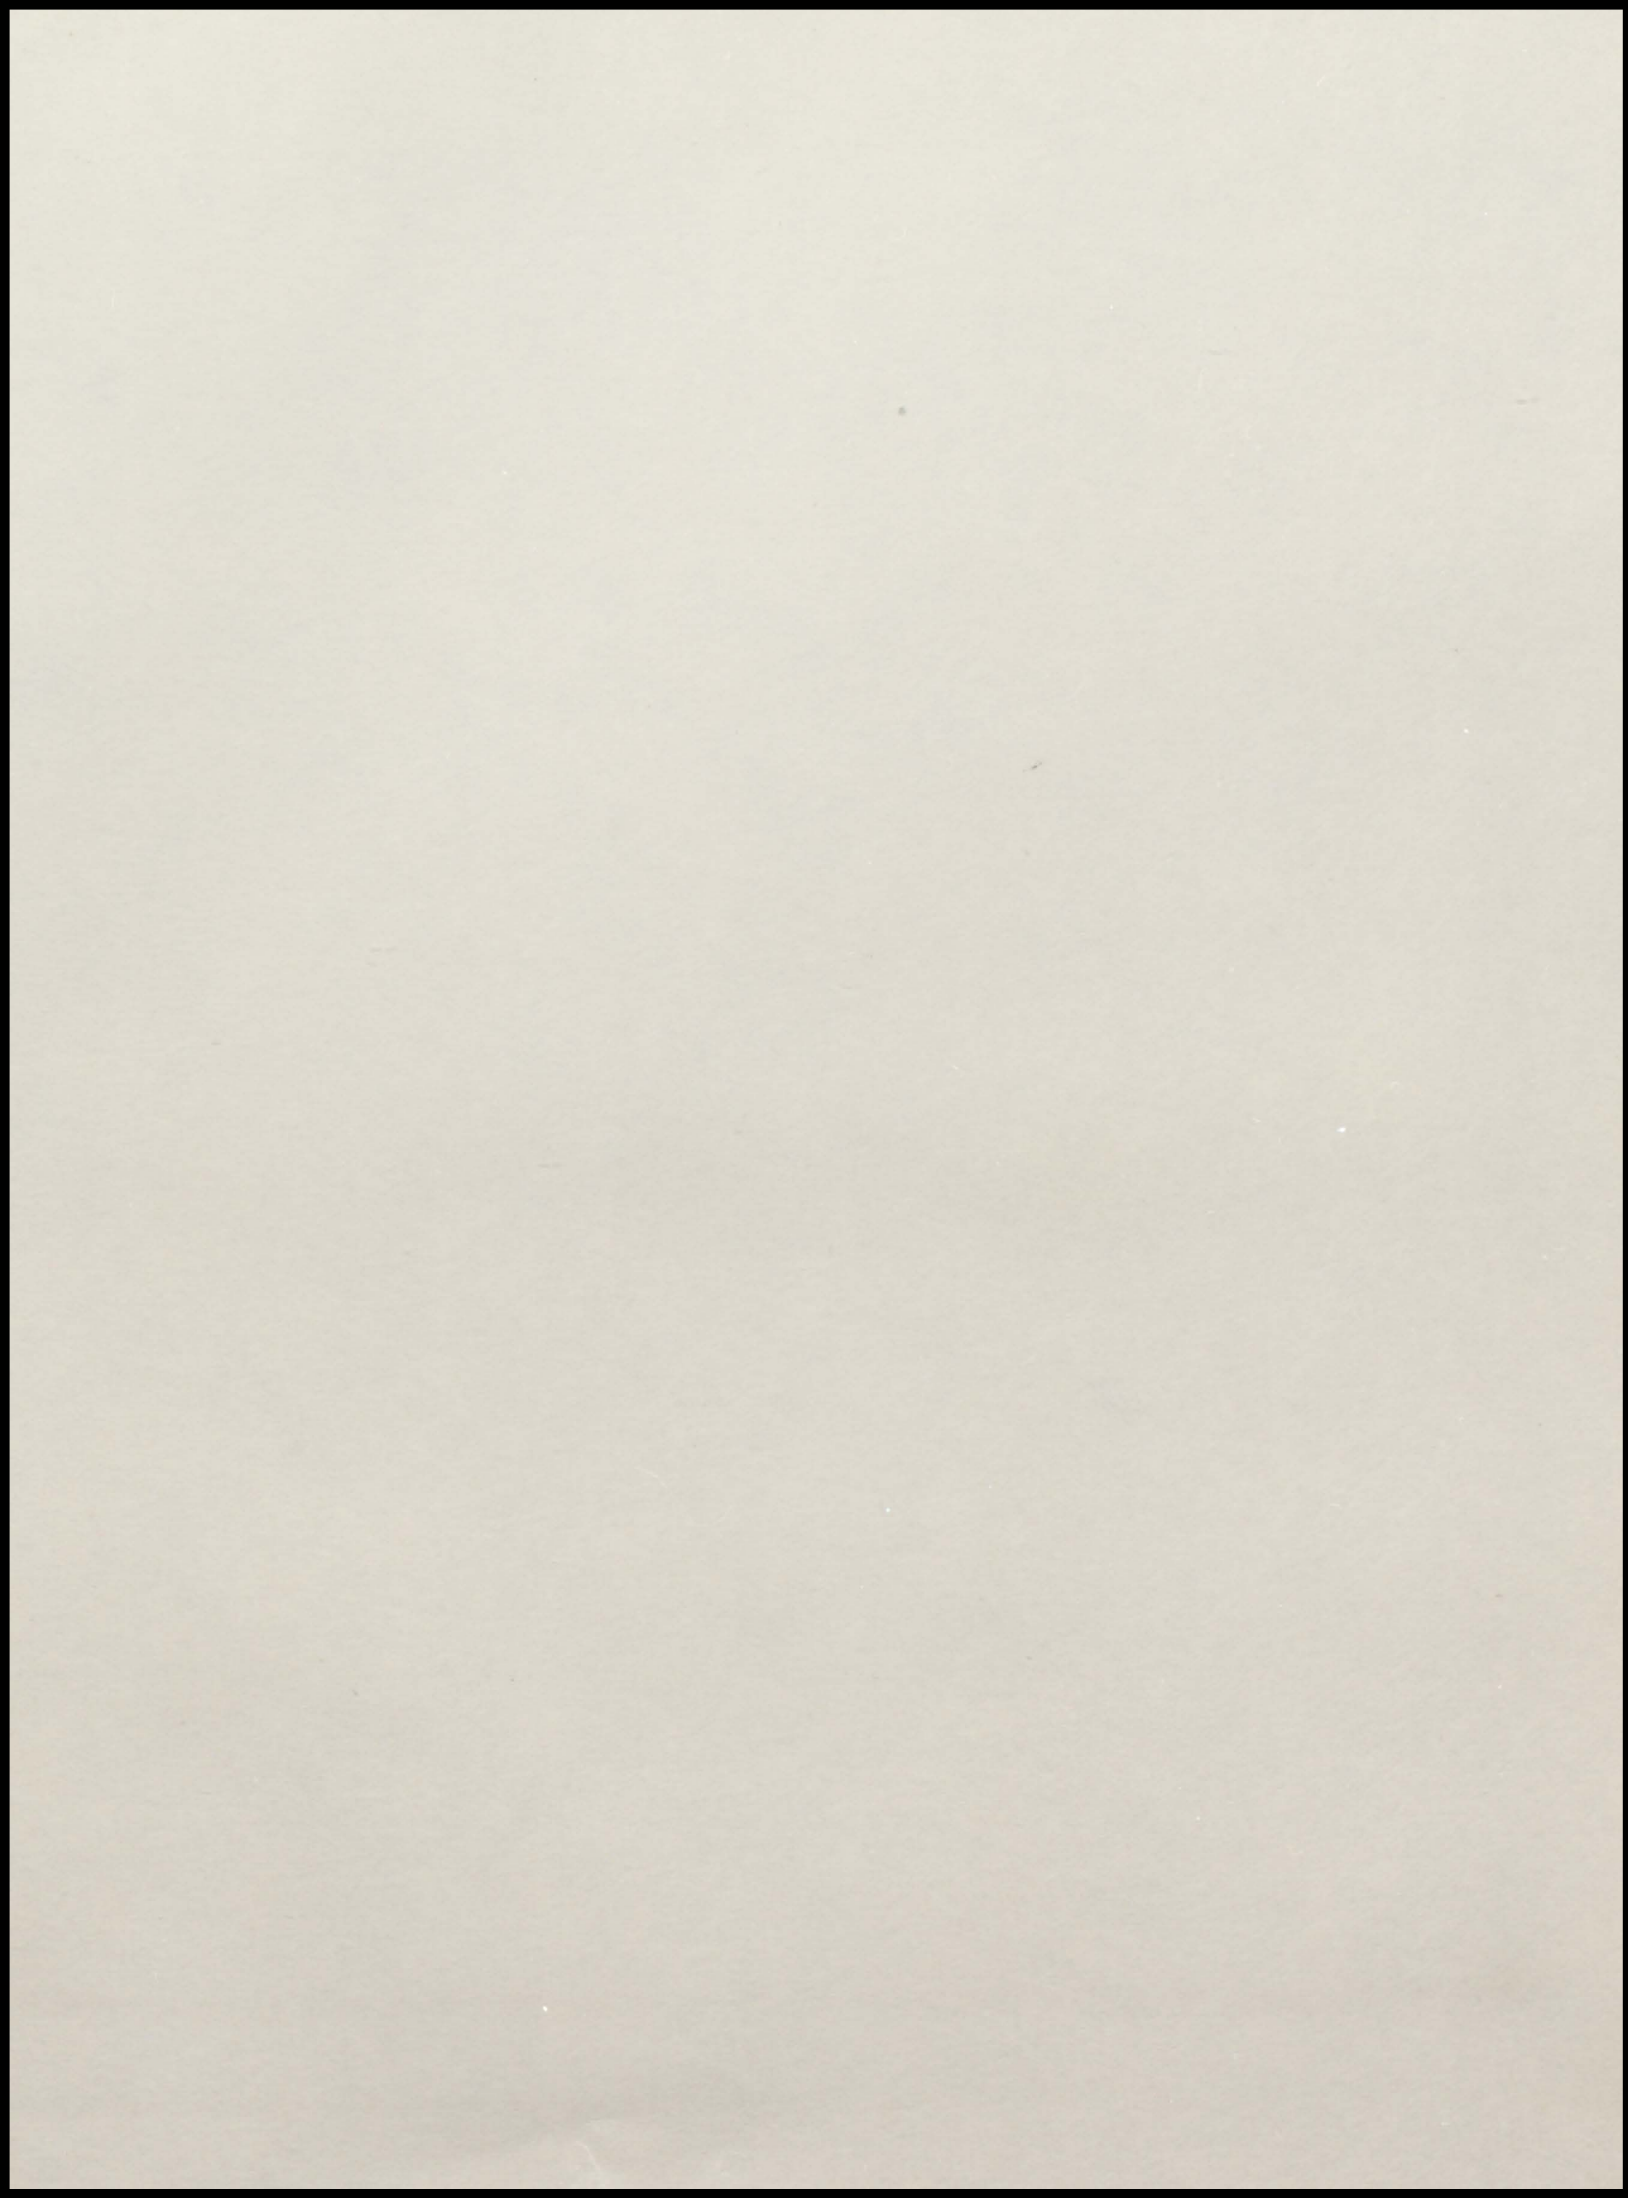

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound or foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell, as
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark.

For though from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar...
